The Noted Charles Carraher Landed in Jail For Bold Attempts at Burglary.

NUMEROUS OTHER ROBBERIES WERE TRIED

Burglars, sneak thieves and pick-pockets were at work with a vengeance in the city yesterday. Luckily, however, they were successful in but one attempt at realizing profit. The cases numbering in the neighborhood of a dozen were all reported to central station, but so far only one of the daring men has been captured.

Charles ("Chongey") Carraher, one of the most notorious crooks of this vicinity, who has spent many days behind the bars for thefts, burglaries, etc., will be taken to the county jail at Lisbon tomorrow morning by Chief Wyman, there to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of house-breaking. The charge was preferred against him by Mrs. C. T. Hard, of Kossuth street. Carraher was seen to be tampering around a window at the rear of the Hard home early in the afternoon by a neighbor woman. The latter watched his maneuvers until he entered the basement and then she ran to the front of the house and warned Mrs. Hard, who was standing on the porch.

Mrs. Hard, showing extraordinary nerve, bravely walked into the house and upon entering the dining room she saw the man fingerling around the sil-

MIND A BLANK OWING TO BLOWS

Young Man Beaten by Highway- men Near Salem Until Nearly Dead.

A HORRIBLE EXPERIENCE

Salem, July 24.—Beaten into insensibility by highwaymen and robbed of a considerable sum of money and valuable papers is the experience which befell Bert Durr, a prosperous young farmer residing on the Ellsworth road, north of this city five miles, at an early hour Monday morning. The case has just come to light. The bold attack occurred near the station at Ellsworth, and as to its details the young man can remember but little. He was so severely beaten about the head and face that he is now in bed and under a physician's care.

Mr. Durr on Sunday evening drove up to Milton township, Mahoning county, to visit friends. He started home late and remembers having driven to a spot this side of the Ellsworth station, and from that time on his mind is a blank.

About 2 o'clock Monday morning Mr. Durr's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Durr, were aroused by hearing some person calling. They investigated, and upon opening the door were horrified to see their son standing near, apparently out of his senses and with blood on his head and face. The young man could say little other than to tell his folks to search for his horse. Then he lapsed into a state of unconsciousness and talked no more.

Further investigation showed that Mr. Durr must have been completely out of his mind when he arrived home, as he had tied his horse to a fence nearby and in the yard. The animal showed no signs of misuse. It was also ascertained that Mr. Durr's pocket-book was missing and with it $25 in money and valuable checks and notes, payment on which has been wardel against.

After daylight Monday a friend tracked Mr. Durr's horse back to Ellsworth, which he could easily do owing to the fact that the animal was doing in a peculiar manner. Near Ellsworth station, six miles from the Durr home, tracks in the dusty road showed that the horse had been stopped and other tracks about in great profusion revealed the fact that there had been a struggle of some kind. Aside from the foot prints, which constituted

ZIMMERMAN IS GAINING

Tom Johnson May Have a Hard Time to Beat Him For Nomination.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, July 24.—John L. Zimmerman, of Springfield, is developing surprising strength over the state in his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor, and it begins to look as if Mayor Tom Johnson will have a hard time of it beating him out for this honor. Were it left to the rank and file and many of the subordinate leaders Zimmerman would win with hands down. If Johnson decides he wants the nomination there will be a stiff fight.

Congressman Doc Norton, of Tiffin, can see nothing but disaster ahead for the Democracy in Ohio with Johnson as its leader. Says he: "Johnson is as erratic as a cat and as revengeful as Satan." Norton blames his defeat for re-election last fall on Johnson.

General Charles Dick, of Akron, came to town yesterday, but will only stay a day or two. He will be here regularly from the 3d of August. He is conferring with John L. Malloy, secretary of the state committee, and others relative to work of the campaign bureau established here by the committee. No one seems to know who will be the Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, Anthony Howells, of Massillon, was the nominee two years ago.

An opinion has been rendered to Secretary of State Laylin by Attorney General Sheets that corporations for profit which have not opened their books for subscriptions, are liable for the minimum Willis law tax of $10.

These prisoners have been discharged from the penitentiary upon expiration of sentences: Thomas Rollins, two years for cutting to kill, Columbiana county; Jacob Hennis, 18 months for biting to disfigure, Jefferson county, and Charles White, one year for forgery, Stark county. White's real name is Frank Hamilton.

James Fetzer, of Columbiana, was in the city yesterday. He is vice president and traveling representative of a firm with headquarters at Fremont which manufactures carriage forgings and bicycle attachments.

GOLD QUARTZ AT WELLSVILLE

Cemetery Hill Reported Rich in Precious Metal. Assay Shows $700 to the Ton.

According to the story of John Jefferies, of Wellsville, gold quartz of almost incalculable value was discovered a few days ago on his place near the base of Cemetery hill. The discovery was made by drillers who were sinking a water well on the place.

If the quartz can be found in any quantity Jefferies will become fabulously wealthy.

Jefferies, who had been watching the progress of the drilling on his place, first noticed the quartz several days ago, when the hole was at a depth of about 38 feet. The cone brought up by the drill had a peculiar color and appearance and his curiosity was at once aroused. He suspected that it contained particles of the precious metal. A quantity of the rock was sent by him to the assayers of the Western Reserve university and in a few days he received from them a statement that the sample showed the presence of gold to the value of $700 in a ton of the quartz.

LOTS OF BABIES IN COMPETITION

Prizes Awarded to the Prettiest Boy and Girl and to the Fattest.

Whom the Committee, Entrusted With the Difficult Duty of Selecting the Prize Winners, Had to Judge—Carnival Closes Tonight.

The last day of the carnival, being held in this city under the auspices of the Grand Army, promises to be the best attended and most interesting since the show began. The carnival has been well patronized throughout the week and the members of the post feel grateful to the citizens generally for their appreciation of a really meritorious attraction.

The baby show was held yesterday and was a grand success. This feature was conducted by the ladies of the Relief Corps, and was one of the most interesting of the week. The event had been well advertised, and mothers from every quarter of the city and far out in the country were on the ground at the appointed time. There were all kinds of babies, fat babies, thin babies, bald headed babies and babies with dimpled feet. In every case they looked just like their papa, and in the opinion of the fond mother were the very finest that ever was. The show was conducted at the Grand Army hall and occupied the time from 2:30 until 5 o'clock.

In all 27 babies were on exhibition, all of which had been entered as the very best baby in the world. A committee had been very carefully selected, and the names were withheld until the very last in order that no irregularity could be charged. The list was as follows: John Martin, Jr., June Long, Edith Elliott, Francis McCloskey, Gerald Springer, Harry Merle Butler, Frederick Allison, Elsie Robb, Clara Lowers, Goldie Green, Walter Flowers, Emma Gale Staats, Ruth Willets, Violet Davis, Constance Green, William Carle Densmore, Helen Worcester, Robert Robinson, Florence Green, Mildred Prosser, Marie Wallace, Gordon Morris, Charles S. Patterson, Henry Marshall, Dorothy Mountford, Wayne Morrow, Alina Moon, Mara Owen.

Prizes had been offered for the prettiest girl baby, the prettiest boy baby and the fattest baby. It required over an hour for the judges to determine upon the winners and the result was announced at about 5 o'clock. The winners were as follows:

Prettiest girl baby—Ruth N. Willets, 7 months, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Willets.

Fattest baby—William C. Densmore.

The prize winners were each given a beautiful silver cup, and to each baby present was presented a souvenir spoon, which each in turn promptly conveyed to its mouth instead of the regular thumb action.

The colored baby show is being held this afternoon, and the indications from the number of entries received to the present are that there will be a large number of contestants.

The grand pyrotechnic display will be given tonight, representing the streets of St. Pierre and the eruption of Mt. Pelee will be reproduced in a wonderfully vivid and realistic manner.

A TEAM STOLEN IN WELLSVILLE

Fine Pair of Horses Driven Off by Harry Potts, a Local Character.

THIEF CAUGHT AND JAILED

One of the boldest robberies in the history of Wellsville was perpetrated yesterday, and though the first part of the scheme worked admirably, the thief is now in custody and will be taken before the grand jury.

Mrs. Philip N. McLean and daughter, Miss Alice, who reside at the Scotch settlement, north of Wellsville, came to town to do some shopping. The ladies drove a match team of valuable bay horses, held by their owner to be worth $400. They hitched the team in front of the business establishment of J. J. Dowling, and were busy for some time with their marketing.

A short time after the team had been tied up, Harry Potts, a well known character of the town, deliberately walked to the hitching post, untied the horses and taking a seat in the buggy drove off. He proceeded west on Broadway to Eighth street and along that thoroughfare to Main. He passed the barn of McLean Bros., cousins of the owners of the team, and although their attention was attracted to the outfit and it was recognized by them, gave the occurrence but a passing notice. Potts was soon out of sight and during the day visited Hammondsville, Irondale and several other towns in the vicinity.

It was some time after the theft was committed before the loss was discovered, and then the ladies reported at once to the McLean Bros' barn. Daniel McLean, one of the brothers, immediately hunted up Chief Houser and the wires were kept hot for several hours. Some confusion was caused by a misunderstanding on the part of the officers at Irondale and Salineville, they thinking that the missing team was gray. Marshal Higgins, of Salineville, got a clue to the missing outfit at Monroeville, and going there was just in time to apprehend the thief and get possession of the stolen property. The team was driven back to Wellsville and Potts was taken to the Salineville jail. Meantime Philip McLean, the owner of the horses, had been communicated with and last evening made information against Potts in the court of Justice A. C. MacKenzie. A warrant was sworn out and placed in the hands of Constable Spires, who left for Salineville on the midnight train. He returned to the city at noon and a hearing was immediately held.

Potts was held in $500 bail for the grand jury, in default of which he was taken to Lisbon jail. Constable Spires starting with him on the hack this afternoon.

SOLEMN SERVICES TO BE HELD IN MEMORY OF POPE LEO XIII IN ALL CATHOLIC CHURCHES

The Order Issued by Bishop Horstmann Received by Father Smyth, of St. Aloysius, Today.

Rev. Bishop Horstmann, of the Cleveland diocese, of which this city is a part, has issued an order, received in this city today, which will govern the obsequy exercises to be observed in memory of the late Pope Leo XIII. Throughout the official communications are tender words for the dead pope.

The invitation to the priests of the diocese to attend the Pontifical High Mass to be celebrated in the Cleveland Cathedral at 9 o'clock Monday morning will be accepted by Rev. Father T. M. Smyth and Rev. Father T. J. Mahan, if circumstances permit.

St. Aloysius' church will be draped for the period of 30 days and the other services authorized by the bishop will be observed.

Following is the full text of the communication:

"To the Reverend Clergy and Devoted Laity of the Diocese of Cleveland: 'Leo XIII is dead! Such was the sad cable dispatch of last Monday noon; and we are sure that at once, wherever the news came, a fervent prayer went up to the great Bishop of Souls, our Lord Jesus Christ, for mercy on His faithful viceroy, Leo. Leo was indeed great in real sense of the word. Grand in intelligence, grand and powerful in will, grand in heart, with a love of God, of the church and of humanity, like to that of the sacred heart of his Divine Master. Over ninety-three years old, we could scarcely hope that he would be able to overcome his serious illness, but the news of his death still came as a shock not only to every Catholic heart, but also to the whole world. His career as pope for over twenty-five years endeared him to all humanity, king and peasant, to learned and ignorant, to rich and poor—to all he proved himself their best benefactor.

"Lumen in coelo! A light in the heavens—such has been his whole life, but especially as the chief watchman in the towers of Israel, preaching, warning, exhorting and teaching the whole human race. We thank God for having given us such a pope and for having spared his life of usefulness for so many years. We thank God for the tributes of praise which have been given him by all, irrespective of race, nationality or religious belief. All declare that he was a great man, a good man, a grand benefactor of the human race. All deplore his death. Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord. Amen,' saith the Spirit, 'for they rest from their labors and their works do follow them.' Yes, Leo is at rest; but his many and great works have pleaded for him as he stood before his Judge.

FOOT BADLY CRUSHED BY MOVING CAR

William Carman Meets With a Painful Mishap on the Street Railway.

While attempting to board a street car in Wellsville last night shortly after 9 o'clock, William Carman, brother of T. O. Carman, of this city, met with an accident which will cause him to be laid up for weeks and which may result in permanent lameness.

Carman has been working at Mingo for several months and was en route to this city last evening for a short vacation, when he was hurt. He was standing on Third street, Wellsville, near the Metropole hotel, awaiting the arrival of the street car, when it very suddenly appeared and though he hurried to the middle of the street the motorman, it is said, did not make any pretense at stopping the car for him, but instead, it is alleged, increased the power.

Carman made a leap for the front end of the car and one of his hands only got a hold. The grasp was obtained on the second handle bar and the sudden jerk of the car threw him underneath. The wheels passed over his left foot and badly mashed it. Spectators ran to his assistance and removed him to the home of a friend where physicians were summoned. They found the foot to be cut badly and though the entire foot will not be amputated, at least two of the toes will have to come off.

The injured man will be removed to this city this evening.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

CLAY MEN PICNIC.

The clay diggers employed at the East End mines held a picnic Wednesday afternoon and report a fine time. Robert Parker, of Wellsville, was called upon to make the music and he did so to the satisfaction of all. Speeches were made by James Parker and George Dobbs, and on the whole the day was most enjoyably spent. Those at the picnic were James Parker, Alf McKinnon, George Dobbs, Sheridan Berry and Charles Metz.

STILL FIGHTING.

The title of the new pottery being built at Mannington reflects the sentiment of that town in a "new county" fight which has been waged fiercely for many years. Mannington has long wanted to be the county seat of a new county to be called Augusta, a movement that has been successfully opposed by Fairmont, the seat of Marion county, of which Mannington is a part. Thousands of dollars were spent by both sides at the state legislature last fall and the Augusta county fight was the most spectacular thing of the session. Mannington people intend to keep the fight up, and so, in subscribing $45,000 stock and a large free site, they were largely induced to be liberal because it was stipulated that the pottery would be called the "Augusta." Many secret order lodges in the town have adopted the name, while nearly all the girl babies are christened the same.

GAVE UP THE CONTRACT.

During the midsummer loaf now drawing to a close three well known potters have been engaged at an occupation which was entirely new to them. Fred Anderson, Frank March and William Ross took a contract to move William Leigh's personal effects from his bachelor's quarters to his new establishment fitted up since his marriage a few weeks ago. Mr. Leigh, having lived for many years in single blessedness, and being a studious individual had accumulated a large number of books and magazines. The contractors, because of their lack of experience in the moving line, now assert they were mistaken. They say they carried magazines for three whole days and then gave up the job in despair. They told the pottery reporter they would now confine their time to the pottery business without any side issues.

PARKERSBURG'S NEW PLANT.

Work is progressing rapidly on the new buildings of the Southside Pottery company in the East End, Parkersburg. The main building, which is now almost ready for the roof, will be 70x80 feet and in the center will be three stories high. It is frame. As soon as the main building is completed work will be begun on the other buildings. One of them will be 35x70 feet and the other 20x80 feet. They will be completed about the first of September.

TO MAKE A NEW LINE.

George B. Harvey, of the Thomas China company, Lisbon, says: "It is true the plant will be shut down, but not because of finances. It will soon present to the trade a new line of ware, making porcelain instead of semi-porcelain, and the present shut down will be for the purpose of arranging for that improvement. The Thomas China company is sound as a gold dollar."

TIERED OF FARMING.

Sherman Vincent, the well known kiln drawer, employed at Cartwright's, has tired of farming and disposed of his place near Calcutta to again take up his residence in this city. His experience as a tiller of the soil provided a great deal of amusement for his shop mates.

IN ZANESVILLE.

John Bishop, the well known modeler of this city, has gone to Zanesville, where he will remain for several weeks. Mr. Bishop has secured the contract for the creation of a new shape at the pottery there and is now hard at work upon the model.

HE IS A FRIEND

OF JOHN WYMAN

So Says Thomas Cannon—His Reason for Supporting Police Ordinance.

Thomas Cannon, member of council from the Fourth ward, who was one of the six who voted against the retention of Chief of Police Wyman, objects to the statement that he supported the move to reduce the police force in sympathy with the saloon element and its interests.

"I cannot imagine what reason any one who knows me could have in attempting to connect me with the saloon element," said Mr. Cannon to a News Review reporter this morning. "I am as good a friend of John Wyman as he possesses in East Liverpool, and if it were possible I would as soon see him in the position of chief of police as any man in East Liverpool. As a neighbor, a friend and an officer I have the very highest regard for John Wyman. Every one who was posted on the situation in the Fourth ward at the nomination and election knows that I was not the saloon men's candidate, and in order to satisfy myself on the matter, I took the trouble to inquire of one of them as to who their man was. They told me without hesitation, and I, of course, acted accordingly. My interpretation of the code shows me that under no circumstances can Mr. Wyman be construed as being in the classified list, and that nothing else has prompted my actions in this matter."

"I am as good a friend of John Wyman as he possesses in East Liverpool, and if it were possible I would as soon see him in the position of chief of police as any man in East Liverpool. at Alton, near this city, about six weeks ago in company with a pal named Miles Wallingford, for the purpose of robbery. Both had served terms in the penitentiary. Wallingford as a horse thief. Texas was his stamping ground, where he was the leader of a band of desperadoes. He was sent here by the federal government. He fled south after the Geyer murder was committed, but was soon captured. He suicided in jail.

Harmon was 23 years old and was reared near Akron. He took the verdict coolly, and expressed the wish that his taking to the annex be not long deferred, because he understands condemned men are given the most palatable and choicest food. He is said to be a gourmand.

FOUND HANGING IN A HAYLOFT

Well Dressed Unknown Committed Suicide in a Mahoning County Barn.

Youngstown, July 24.—The body of a well dressed man, presumably a suicide, was found hanging in a barn loft at North Jackson. The barn is on the property of Mrs. W. J. Crawford. No person about the premises has any knowledge of the man. No trace of his actions previous to his death has developed since the finding. All efforts to identify the remains have proven unsuccessful.

The remains were those of a genteel appearing person. As soon as the discovery was made the affair was reported to Dr. Zimmerman, who responded and found the unfortunate dead.

Before a preliminary examination of the remains were made the information was telephoned to this city and Coroner Blott was notified.

Dr. Blott made further inquiry by telephone and finds that the remains of the dead man have evidently been hanging in the barn for possibly more than a week and the remains are in a bad state of decomposition.

A Surgical Operation is always dangerous—do not submit to the surgeon's knife until you have tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It will cure when everything else fails—it has done this in thousands of cases. Here is one of them: "I suffered from bleeding and protruding piles for 20 years. Was treated by different specialists and used many remedies, but obtained no relief until I used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Two boxes of this salve cured me 18 months ago and I have not had a touch of the piles since."—H. A. Tisdale, Summerton, S. C. For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles no remedy equals DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Sold by Alvin H. Bulger.

FIVE MURDERERS IN DEATH CHAMBER

Numerous Criminals Awaiting Execution in the Penitentiary at Columbus.

Columbus, July 24.—(Special)—The death chamber at the penitentiary will soon be the temporary abiding place of five condemned murderers. Three are new occupants of it—the two Wade brothers from Toledo, and Philip Nagle from Upper Sandusky, and in a few days the wife strangler, Alfred Knapp, who was found guilty of first degree murder, without recommendation of mercy, at Hamilton week before last, and Lewis Harmon, in whose case a similar verdict was rendered at Columbus Saturday night, will be placed in the annex.

Knapp confessed to the committing of several atrocious murders, women and children being his victims. He killed three wives. Harmon shot down in cold blood an aged farmer named George Geyer, whose home he entered

WELL REPRESENTED IN STATE COLLEGES

Young Men of the East End Will Return to Their Studies
This Fall.

East End will be well represented among the different colleges of the state when the terms commence this fall and some of the young men give promise of attaining high honors. Several college students have been spending the summer vacation with East End relatives and will return to their alma mater to be graduated in the spring, while others will have their first experience.

Grant McDade will return to the Ohio State University to complete his course of study, this being the third year for him. He will be graduated next spring.

Paul Andrews will become a student at the Indiana normal school, Indiana, Pa., this being his first term.

Ralph McIntosh, who has been attending the Ohio State University, will return to that institution after having spent most of the summer with East End relatives.

Earl Arbutnot, the popular young clerk at Wilson's drug store, will enter the normal school at Ada, O., where he will take up the study of pharmacy. Owing to his long experience in the store and public school training it will be possible for him to graduate in a year.

In Camp With Militia.

Claude Morrow, of Bradman's grocery, left yesterday for Grove City, Pa., where he will join the company of state militia of which he is a member, that city being his former home. The company will join others of the regiment and go into camp at McKinley park, near Somerset. He will be gone two weeks and expects to have a fine time.

Will Visit England.

Thomas Miles left yesterday for England, where he expects to spend the balance of the summer with relatives. Mr. Miles was born and raised in England, but came to this country many years ago and is making his first trip home.

Caldwell Out of Danger.

Elza Caldwell, the gun victim, who was thought at the time of the occurrence to be fatally injured, is considered out of danger now by the attending physician. The period for the development of tetanus, the complication most dreaded, has now passed.

GRAUSTARK

We have a good one for our readers now—GRAUSTARK, THE STORY OF A LOVE BEHIND A THRONE, BY GEORGE BARR MCCUTCHEON.

Marie Bankhead Owen, reviewing the story in the Bookworm, says: A practical bookman has just said, "no book since Trilby has taken so great a hold on the popular fancy as Graustark."

Being a story of love behind a throne, it teems with scenes of adventure and impassioned romance.

The author, George Barr McCutcheon, himself an American, has given the reader a noble example of an ideal American as hero.

The plot is thrilling and well sustained, the story being told in vivid, terse English.

The motive of the story is the love of a man and a woman, and what that love emboldens them to venture, to dare, to renounce, to endure!

It is beyond the province of the reviewer to reduce the plot of a masterpiece of fiction to a compressed summary of the story. A zealous story reader delights in the discovery of what happened next as well as to revel in the style and the literary atmosphere.

I would as soon be given a glass of skimmed milk or a squeezed lemon as a book of fiction accompanied with a synopsis of its contents. Graustark I leave therefore to the pleasure of the prospective reader.

THE STORY WILL BEGIN NEXT MONDAY, AND WE BELIEVE YOU WILL THOROUGHLY ENJOY IT. OF ONE THING WE ARE SURE—A MORE THRILLING ROMANCE YOU HAVE NEVER READ.

The Synodical Young People's convention. He will deliver an address to the convention on Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. J. W. Grant and daughter, Bertha, left this afternoon for Salineville and Mechanicstown, where they will visit relatives.

W. D. Hopkins, of Mulberry street, who has been at Mt. Clemens, Mich., for the past two weeks, writes to East End friends that he is improving slowly from his attack of rheumatism.

Catarrh of the Stomach.

When the stomach is overloaded, when food is taken into it that fails to digest, it decays and inflames the mucous membrane, exposing the nerves, and causes the glands to secrete mucus, instead of the natural juices of digestion. This is called catarrh of the stomach. "For years I suffered with catarrh of the stomach, caused by indigestion. Doctors and medicines failed to benefit me until I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure."—J. R. Rhea, Coppell, Texas. Sold by Alvin H. Bulger.

Coal Will Go Up in Price.

Kansas City, July 24.—Because of an increase of about 7 cents on a ton in the wages paid coal miners of the southwest the operators have, it is stated, decided to increase the cost of fuel to consumers from 50c to $1 a ton. The increase will apply to all kinds of coal used by householders and small manufacturing plants and it is probable that before winter sets in there will be a further increase in the prices. A big operator says that a $6 rate for coal which sold last year for $4 is not improbable.

VISIONARY ESTATE

Reputed Millions of the Whitaker Fortune Again Reported Non-Existent.

The following editorial from the Toledo Blade will be of interest in Columbiana county, many of the Whitaker or Whitacre "heirs" residing here:

"The Philadelphia North American has done good service for a whole lot of Whitakers who have been led to believe that they had an interest in an alleged estate of $200,000,000. According to the claims the Bank of England held this amount in its vaults subject to payment as soon as the identity of the heirs could be established.

"The Philadelphia paper placed it self in communication with the Bank of England and was informed that no such estate existed, so far as the bank officials knew, and that no such sum of money was awaiting the pleasure of the Whitaker heirs.

"This is an illustration of a hundred similar cases. Shyster lawyers work on the characteristic cupidity of the human race and wring many a dollar from the poor in prosecution of claims that have no more foundation in fact than the Whitaker case. And it is the duty of newspapers in every community to expose these frauds."

Hagee's Cordial of Cod Liver Oil will fortify a weak, run down, emaciated system and enable it to better withstand the summer heat. It revitalizes the blood, invigorates the digestive function, and imparts a tonic influence to every nerve and tissue. Pleasant to take.

HARD FIGHT TO BE MADE

By the Cleveland Mayor to Land the Gubernatorial Nomination — Anything to Down Zimmerman Appears
to Be His Rallying Cry.

Columbus, July 24.—"Red Devils," special trains, gaily decorated horses and buggies may be expected to be seen touring the state in the fall for the purpose of making votes for the Democratic state ticket. Just how many votes will be made, and whether the proposed advertising will be the best thing for the party, no one here cares to venture an opinion. That the coming campaign will be spectacular in every respect goes without saying. It appears that no person is being taken into the confidence of the Hon. Tom L. Johnson, of Cleveland, in this matter, but he has plans mapped out, and more ideas in his head about which he has said nothing. That Tom L. Johnson is going to make a hard fight for the nomination for governor of the great state of Ohio at the Democratic state convention in this city August 25 there is not the least doubt. He has not said that he would, neither has he been quoted as saying that he would not.

It seems to be the cry of the Johnson-Bryan-Lentz Democrats in the central part of the state, that anything will do to defeat Zimmerman, of Springfield. No one has just found out why Zimmerman must be defeated at the general election, but there is some reason that will soon come out. The recent visit of Johnson to the Bryan summer retreat appears to have started the fact that Johnson would be a candidate. After an all day conference there, Bryan agreed to come to this state in the fall, and if Johnson at that time did not propose to be a candidate for the nomination of what use would there be in Bryan coming here?

As soon as the statement was made known that Bryan was to come to Ohio, that moment the fact that Johnson proposed to be a candidate for the nomination was as good as announced by the Cleveland mayor himself. It appears that Zimmerman is a little too conservative to suit the Johnson followers, and can and is considered by some in that same class as is Cleveland. In other words, Zimmerman is thought to be a Cleveland Democrat. Bryan, when he comes to the Buckeye state, will warn all the Democratic voters who chance to hear him, and possibly a few Republicans who will listen to him throughout of curiosity, of the dangers of Clevelandism. Democrats must, in the estimation of Johnson and Bryan, adhere strictly to the famous old Kansas City platform. To them the star of victory is perched on those planks. It is well that they think so, for in Ohio there are many Democrats who are only awaiting the chance to get away from something that in their estimation is sure defeat at not only a national election, but a state election as well.

Johnson just now is keeping his own counsel. McLean is doing a little talking, it is rumored, for the announcement is made that the Cincinnati publisher and resident of Washington is coming home from an European trip to enter the battle of ballots in Ohio, and that he will be on the conservative side—meaning the side of Zimmerman. If this be true, and there is every reason to believe that it is so, a fight that will be worth going miles to see will be waged by the Johnson and Zimmerman factions on the convention floor.

When McLean and his forces are arrayed on one side and the Bryan-Johnson-Lentz forces on the other appear on the convention floor what a story there will then be told. If the Zimmerman faction should win the glory of the day it will be goodbye to all the old planks in the Kansas City platform and Bryanism for a time at least.

But, if the tables are reversed, and Johnson is nominated, it will be a grand old day for Billy from Nebraska. Lentz will also feel good for they do say that this ex-congressman is seeking a seat in the walls at Washington. There is not much chance of the Columbus attorney getting this honor, however.

COUNTY AND NEIGHBORHOOD

Charles E. Aik, of New Philadelphia, found a $100 pearl in the Tuscarawas. A good site and $20,000 is all that a new casting company wants to come to Steubenville.

The mail carrier at Warrenton, Lewis Jackson, has carried the mail between the railroad station and the village for 40 years.

The Lynn hotel, at Belmont, one of the oldest hostleries in eastern Ohio, was burned to the ground, entailing a loss of about $2,000, covered with insurance.

Hon. Jared Dunbar, the sage of the Jefferson county bar, and one of the most prominent men in Eastern Ohio, will be a candidate for congress to succeed Hon. J. J. Gill.

George Hemphill, of Coillers, killed a big black snake recently and was surprised at the size of the reptile. On examination he found a half grown chicken that the snake had just swallowed.

A company of Canton business men have organized under the name of the Stark Furniture company, to manufacture the Sanor safety folding beds. Dr. George W. Sanor, formerly of Hanoverton, invented the bed.

Captain Charles A. Frantz, aged 25, of Marietta, captain of the steamer H. K. Bedford, is the youngest captain on the Ohio and Mississippi. This takes in every craft between the Smoky City and New Orleans.

Advices from the agricultural districts indicate that the Ohio peach crop this year will be large. Trees are generally reported to be heavy laden and a short spell of favorable weather will ripen the early varieties of white peaches.

Go Prepared.

In preparing for your summer outing a little forethought may save you no end of trouble. Mr. John H. Manly, a dry goods merchant, of Belleville, R. I., while packing an outfit for camping a few weeks on Narragansett Bay, put in a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for emergency use. The second day in camp his little boy was taken with cramp colic. The first dose of this remedy gave relief and the second dose effected a cure. Think of the pain and suffering this boy would have had to endure without this remedy at hand to relieve him. Such cases often result fatally. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

Though it has been three weeks since the Fourth of July was celebrated, the list of those killed and injured during the celebration is by no means complete. Every day additional deaths from lockjaw, due to wounds inflicted by toy pistols, are reported. The blank cartridges are proving as deadly as if they contained bullets, the only difference being that their victims linger and suffer longer. It is claimed that the sale of either blank cartridges or toy pistols to minors is forbidden by the laws of Ohio, and the following section of the revised statutes certainly seems broad enough to warrant the authorities everywhere in the state in sternly suppressing the trade in these deadly playthings: "Whoever sells, barter or gives away to any minor under the age of 14 years, any air gun, musket, revolver, pistol or other fire arm, of any kind or description whatever, or ammunition for the same, or whoever being the owner or having charge or control of any such air gun, rifle, etc., knowingly permits the same to be used by any such minor, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding $100, or imprisoned in jail not exceeding 30 days, or both."

That a boy and a loaded revolver are a dangerous combination is a fact universally admitted. It is strange that numerous sad accidents, like that reported from Wellsville yesterday, have not yet impressed upon parents the necessity and wisdom of keeping the two apart.

Low awnings must be elevated, says the board of public safety. Tall men who have been compelled to stoop or risk the loss of their hats as they passed along the sidewalks will rejoice. Such awnings are both unnecessary and unsightly.

Sorry to read that the "earthly work" of the local attorneys is at an end. We had supposed that most of them were still good for several years of that sort of thing. The Cherry Picker appears to think otherwise, however.

The latest Kentucky sensation reported is that one prominent Blue Grass district gentleman called another a liar and no shooting followed. Doubtless the man whose veracity was attacked was not a native.

The next time Mr. "Chongeye" Carraher is sentenced, East Liverpool strongly hopes that the judge will not overlook the fact that he is a habitual criminal and treat him accordingly.

The mayor and Mr. Wyman are evidently firmly convinced that possession is nine-tenths of the law in the matter of the police chieftainship.

Your Kind of Fountain Pens

The points to consider in buying a fountain pen are: reliability, freedom from leakage, and constancy of flow. You get all of these at their best in the time-tried

JOHN HOLLAND FOUNTAIN PENS.

By reliability we mean a pen that is always ready to write and that will write from the time you first touch it to paper until every drop of ink has been used. The flow in these pens is perfect itself and the mechanical construction makes leakage an impossibility. Every pen is guaranteed.

We have them at all prices from $1.00 to $5.00—the difference being principally in the ornamentation.

FARMER SECURES AN INJUNCTION

RESTRAINING YOUNGSTOWN & SOUTHERN FROM WORK.

Right of Way Dispute Leads to Legal Proceedings Against New Road.

Youngstown, July 24.—The new Youngstown & Southern Railroad company ran against its first legal snag yesterday when it was enjoined by common pleas court at the instance of George Baldwin, of Boardman, who tells in his petition the cause of his action against the new corporation.

The title of the proceedings is George Baldwin, versus the Youngstown & Southern Railroad company, J. W. Fawcett, Veeder Heasley and Patrick M. Joyce. The document proclaims that the company is engaged in constructing a railroad from Youngstown to East Liverpool and the other three defendants are contractors engaged upon the work; that said railroad will pass through Boardman township where defendant owns 192 acres of land; that the proposed road will pass through his farm, but not where he has sold the company a right of way; that the original right of way was located on a different portion of his property, but that the company has now changed the course of the road from the original survey. He prays the court for an order temporarily restraining further work in this direction and that the injunction be made permanent.

Judge Robinson granted a temporary injunction and ordered that plaintiff give bond in the sum of $300 with sufficient surety. Baldwin was to receive $1,000 for the right of way upon his farms upon completion of the road, according to the original survey and agreement.

ELKSEND CONVENTION

Business Sessions of Grand Lodge Finishes With Installation of Officers.

LARGEST MEETING EVER HELD

Crab Feast Was Immense Success.

Pleasure Now Rules the Hour and All Are Out for Good Time—Many Visitors Departing for Other Cities.

Baltimore, July 24.—What many of the members of the grand lodge of Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks claim to have been the largest and most successful grand lodge meeting in the history of the organization has come to a close. There were 1,941 grand lodge members in the city and a great majority attended every business session. The nearest approach to this number is said to have been at the Milwaukee reunion in 1901, when there were 720 present. The actual number of visitors during the week is hard to approximate, as many of the Elks failed to register at headquarters and there were hosts of sight-seers from contiguous territory as well as from distant points.

There were two sessions of the grand lodge during the day, at the first of which only routine matters were discussed. At the evening session it was decided to restore its charter to the Macon, Ga., lodge. The committee on ritual was not prepared to report all the changes proposed and the matter was carried over, the committee being instructed to report a complete ritual when it is agreed upon. A resolution was adopted discouraging the throwing of confetti during future grand lodge meetings. It is said that many of the more conservative members urged the adoption of this resolution.

Resolutions of Thanks Adopted.

Resolutions of thanks and commendation to the local lodge, to the mayor and city council of Baltimore and to the merchants and people generally, upon "the magnificent reception, electrical and other displays, and for the hospitality shown visiting Elks during the week," were adopted.

The installation of officers followed, each outgoing and incoming officer delivering a short address. Grand Exalted Ruler Joseph T. Fanning, of Indianapolis, then declared the grand lodge adjourned sine die to meet in Cincinnati next year, and to the strains of "Maryland, My Maryland," the grand lodge members dispersed, nearly all singing the anthem as they left the hall.

The night was given up to jollification by the Elks, visitors and citizens. Bands paraded the streets and "Hello, Bill," the shillbottle of the order, was heard on every side.

Many of the visitors, especially from the southern and western states are leaving for northern trips, taking in Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Atlantic City. Those from distant points who desired to see the national capital have visited Washington during the week.

Crabs in All Styles.

The last steamer to arrive from Tolchester beach reached her pier at midnight. General "Caterer" Thomas F. McNulty, of this city, who planned the feast, stated that the crowd of visitors numbered no fewer than 20,000 persons. Many private yachts and equipages swelled the number taken to the beach by the Baltimore steamers.

Crabs with concomitants were served in every conceivable style. There were soft crabs, hard boiled crabs, steamed crabs, fried hard and soft crabs, crab soup and deviled crabs. He estimates that at least 60,000 dozens of crabs were eaten during the day. Many of the visitors enjoyed a plunge in the Chesapeake during the day. At midnight all the strangers in the city have retired to their hotels and the streets are practically deserted.

Two 15-horse power boilers are being placed in position here for the new ice plant being erected by Judge P. M. Smith. The machinery was brought in over the belt line of the C. & P., being the first freight handled over that branch.

The new ferry boat Cruise, Capt. Watson Johnston, proprietor, was successfully launched at Congo yesterday afternoon. The boat is propelled by means of two powerful gasoline engines, and her initial voyage was satisfactory in every way. The old flat boat ferry will now be relegated to the shade.

An alarm of fire from box No. 12 called the department yesterday afternoon to Maple alley, in the rear of the Star restaurant, where the cook shed of that eating house was ablaze, having caught from a gas stove. Mayor Fogo drove the hose wagon, which made a brilliant run. The loss was slight.

WANTS CONVEYANCE

TO BE SET ASIDE

George Rambo, of East Liverpool, alleges a fraudulent Transfer By M. P. Wilton.

Lisbon, July 24.—(Special)—George Rambo, of East Liverpool, is plaintiff in a suit filed against Moreton P. Wilton and the Pottery Building & Savings company, asking that the conveyance of a three-acre tract in East Liverpool be set aside and that he may recover a judgment of $75 from Wilton with interest from May 1, 1902.

The plaintiff says that on April 1, last, he made a verbal agreement with Wilton whereby the plaintiff was to dig a well for him on the premises and furnish the material for completing it. The well was finished May 1 and at that time Wilton was the owner of the premises. Rambo says only $50 of his claim has been paid, leaving $75 due, for which he has valid lien against the property. He says Wilton has put the property in his wife's name, to defraud his creditors, and asks that this conveyance be set aside and the Pottery Building & Savings company be required to set up an alleged claim against the premises.

Miss Millicent Thompson will entertain a house party composed of five or six young ladies for several weeks, and it will be one of the most delightful of the many charming social functions at "The Lindens."

COURT ASKED TO AID

The Executrix of the Late James B. Hall in Discharging His Duties.

Lisbon, July 24.—(Special)—Jerusha Hall, of East Liverpool, as executrix of the estate of the late James B. Hall, has filed a petition asking the aid of the court in construing a clause in the will of the deceased. James B. Hall died April 21, 1902, leaving as his only heirs, his widow and an adopted daughter, Elizabeth J., who, before the death of the testator, became Mrs. Josiah T. Herbert.

The executrix asks the court to determine her duties as to the second item of the will, which provides that all the property of the deceased shall go to the widow, she to have the use of it and to collect all rents and interest for the maintenance of herself and her adopted daughter. The court will have to determine what shares each is entitled to, also as to the interests of Mrs. Herbert in the estate during the life of Mrs. Hall. McGarry & McGarry are attorneys for Mrs. Hall.

SOUTH SIDE

A FINE ENTERTAINMENT

To Be Presented Monday Evening Under the Auspices of Chester Jr. O. U. A. M.

A competent committee is making arrangements for an entertainment to be given under the auspices of the Chester council, Jr. O. U. A. M., on next Monday evening. The committee has been indefatigable in its efforts to arrange a program which will be novel and entertaining.

Fortune has favored those in charge in that they have succeeded in booking Prof. George Kiernan, one of the best elocutionists now before the public. Mr. Kiernan is making his headquarters at Pittsburg, and has consented to appear for this one night in Chester. He will present a character sketch, entitled "The Old Homestead." The play is a beautiful one and is sure to please. The entertainment will be held in the Jr. O. U. A. M. hall in the Mercer building, recently completed, and arrangements have been made to entertain a very large crowd.

Soon Will Finish.

Drillers at the well of the Chester Oil & Gas company yesterday succeeded in getting through the hardest strata through which they have been drilling for several days, and it now looks as though they would be through with the present hole in a few days.

All preparations have been made for the location of well No. 2, and the hole will be staked off just as soon as the rig is ready to move. With the increased force of drillers the work is progressing more rapidly than ever before. There will be no let up in the development of the field until it has been thoroughly tested.

Chester Illustrated.

Photographer Robert C. Spencer was in Chester yesterday, where he took a number of pictures for the use of Prof. Harry Moore, publisher of the Southside Citizen. Mr. Moore proposes issuing a souvenir edition of the paper in which will be shown a number of the residences and business houses of prominent men of the locality. John Shrader's residence and the business block of the Chester Hardware company were photographed yesterday and will be converted into cuts. Mr. Moore expects to issue next week.

Repairing the Boilers.

Repairs to the boilers at the tin mill are progressing as rapidly as could be expected, and it is hoped that the work will be completed in time to resume operations on next Monday. The workmen are just as well satisfied, since the work must be done that it would fall at this time in the year and are enjoying the loaf by making short hunting excursions into the country and in various other ways.

Card of Thanks.

The general committee of arrangements representing General Lyon post, No. 44, G. A. R., in promoting and carrying to a successful termination the street carnival held in this city during the present week, desires to express its sincere and heartfelt thanks to the general public for its liberal patronage, the young ladies who took part in the diamond ring contest, the members of the W. R. C., the Sons of Veterans and all others who aided the old soldiers in the way of patronage and sympathy for the movement during the week. The committee takes this means of expressing its gratitude and to assure all who in any way contributed to the success of the carnival that their kindness will ever be remembered.

Here also will be witnessed the coronation of the queen of the carnival, Miss Rena Bricelin, who won the ring contest, will be crowned queen of the event with all the ceremonies usually connected with an occasion of that sort. Two young ladies will act as the maids of honor, and will be driven to the scene of the coronation in a beautifully bedecked carriage drawn by two handsome white horses, the property of J. C. McQuilkin. Arriving at their destination the ceremonies will be proceeded with in full view of the entire audience. The exquisite crown is the creation of Chal Peterson and is a very handsome piece of work. Headed by a brass band the old soldiers will escort the carriage to the city of St. Pierre.

The program for the carnival, this afternoon and tonight is by far the most interesting of the week, and the attendance will doubtless be very large. In spite of the "knocking" which has been going on in many quarters, and the fact that many predicted a frost on account of the scarcity of money so soon after the mid-summer loaf in the potteries, the Grand Army has made a grand success of the carnival. The proceeds from the affair will amount to considerable, and as was announced in the beginning, will be applied to the relief of helpless and needy soldiers.

"Our duty is plain. He was our great spiritual father, with a father's love for us, his children, his American children. Let us now prove our love for him. That love can now be shown only by our prayers and the holy sacrifice of the mass offered up for the repose of his soul. On next Monday there will be a solemn pontifical requiem at 9 a. m. in the cathedral to which we invite all the priests who can come. On Tuesday we order that in every church of the diocese a requiem mass be offered for the soul of Leo with as great solemnity as possible. We hope that for 39 days each church will be draped in mourning, and during that time after every mass three Our Fathers and three Hail Marys be recited with the responses: Eternal rest grant unto him, O Lord. And may the perpetual light shine upon him. May he rest in peace. Amen."

"During the vacancy of the see of Peter, the prayer 'Supplici Domine' from the Votive mass 'pro Eligendo Summo Pontifice' will be substituted for the prayer pro papa.

"Brethren, we loved Leo in life, we will love him in death and will often pray: Sweet Jesus, have mercy on him. Amen."

"Please read this letter at all the masses next Sunday."

COUNTERFEITER FOUND GUILTY

Cigar Manufacturer Not Only Used Bogue Union Label, but Substituted False Bottoms in Boxes.

New York, July 24.—Charles W. Salomon, a dealer in leaf tobacco and manufacturer of cigars, was found guilty in the court of special sessions of counterfeiting the union cigar label and sentenced to pay a fine of $500. Later he was taken before United States Commissioner Shields and was held in $1,000 bail for his appearance on August 4, when he will be arraigned on a complaint made by Revenue Agent John W. Sinsol, who charges him with having substituted false and forged bottoms in boxes of cigars made in Pennsylvania so that dealers and others would believe them made in Key West.

In the neighborhood of half a million cheap Pennsylvania cigars, purporting to be Key West, have been distributed throughout the United States by Salomon, according to the secret service officials. Salomon owns small factories in Key West and in Red Lion, Pa.

REALM OF SPORTS

GEO. EMMERLING
GAINED RENOWNYouthful Twirler Piloted the Local Team to Another Victory.

A VERY INTERESTING GAME

With Wellsville. Resulted in a Score of 5 to 4 in Favor of East Liverpool.
Interesting Features Many in a Strenuous Contest.

George Emmerling, the youngster who has been pitching for the Athletics, wrapped himself up in glory yesterday afternoon by twirling the local team to victory against Wellsville at Central park. Eight scattered hits but two of them in any one inning was all Captain Maag's swatters could do to his speedy curves. His wildness put him in the hole in several innings, but he steadied down and pitched himself out like an old timer. In the two opening innings the team behind him was a trifle wobbly, and the two runs scored by Wellsville were clear gifts. From the second until the eighth inning Emmerling held them without a run and allowed them but two safeties. Meantime Mr. Patterson was getting his bumps.

Lawrence's illness left Captain Reark in sore straits for a twirler and he called out Emmerling and "Flicker" Allison, both of the Athletics. The latter had injured his arm in a game a few days ago, so Emmerling went in. Naturally the local fans thought the game was lost before Empire Light called play ball, but Emmerling showed them that it was time to have another think. The Wellsville bunch thought it would be easy picking to "make a hundred" off the youngsters; and wanted to bet on their clinch. They were accompanied by a few moneyed gentlemen from the Crookery City and now they have reason to recall the fact that sure things do not always go through.

In the first onslaught, Gibson struck out for a starter. Maag spanked out a safety and Chambers helped him around to third with a drive along the first base line. Chambers started for second on the first ball thrown and Nist threw to catch him. Maag had such a good start home that McConnell did not throw to catch him at the plate. Chambers reached second, but was left, Wallace going out to Murphy and Brown from Hamilton to Berry.

Emmerling was a trifle nervous and could not locate the plate for Maag Hamilton went out to Duff on a little pop up. McConnell sent one out to Webb, who made a rank muff. Maag thought he had it and was scurrying back to first, giving Webb an easy chance to throw him out at second. Houser dumped one along the third base line and Brown's throw went on to the fence, McConnell scoring.

East Liverpool was blanked in the second, but Wellsville went one to the good. Riley flew out to Maag and Berry hit a safe one. Nist hit a hot one to George Emmerling, and he threw wild to Wallace. Patterson sent one to Gibson, who fired to Chambers and Nist was out. Chambers threw to Wallace in time to nail Patterson, but Wallace muffed and Berry, who had been moving up on the misplays, crossed the rubber.

While the Wellsville sluggers were trying to solve the mystery of Emmerling's shoots in the succeeding six innings, East Liverpool was pounding Patterson hard and forged to the front. Emmerling singled in the second, but was left, Brown and Webb made safeties in the fourth and suffered a similar fate. Emmerling hit for two bags in the fifth, but was left again — all wasted ammunition.

There were exciting doings in the sixth. Chambers popped up a fly which Hamilton muffed and Wallace followed with a pretty single. Brown hit to Patterson, forcing Chambers at third. Webb went out to Berry, Wallace moving up to third and Brown to second. Two men were down and a hit was badly needed. Reark had two strikes and then sent a scorcher past third. Murphy's return was perfect, but Nist stood directly on the line to take it and Brown bumped into him, running at full speed. Nist made a complete circle in the air and although he held the ball he did not touch Brown. Reark moved up to third while the other players were picking up the injured man, but he was left when Duff struck out.

Another was added in the seventh. Gibson led off with a safety and was helped around by Chambers' safety and an out.

In the ninth George Emmerling walked and Gibson helped him along with a single. Chambers scored him with a safety.

Wellsville attempted to repeat the old trick of winning out in the ninth, but a sensational catch by Brown put them out of business. Nist went out on an easy one to Chambers and Patterson sent him one just as easy, but he fumbled and Patterson was safe. Maag, who had walked three times out of four, spanked out a safety and Patterson stopped at third. Maag took second on the next ball pitched, scoring with Patterson on McConnell's safety. The spectators had crowded up along the base lines and the prospect was none too bright for Liverpool, with a man on base and only one needed to tie the score. It was up to Houser and his first try was a high foul. Brown and Duff started, but everybody thought it would drop safe. Brown crowded through the throng, however, and after a hard struggle nailed it and the victory came to Liverpool.

CHAMPION WRESTLER
WANTS A MATCH

Mike Yokel, the champion middle weight wrestler of the United States, was in the city yesterday. He stated to the sporting editor of the News Review that he would like to effect a match with any local man in his class. Yokel's home is in Beaver Falls. A paper of that city published the following upon his return home a few weeks ago:

"Mike Yokel left Beaver Falls some six or seven years ago and since that time has been much of the world and achieved quite a reputation as an athlete, his special forte being wrestling, and he now holds the championship for middle weight wrestlers in the amateur class and has a couple of elegant gold medals, one of which is worth fully $1,000.

"After leaving Beaver Falls he drifted to New York and served for some time as a sailor. He then drifted into athletics and chancing to get into a good class of fellows and taking good care of himself he soon rose to the front ranks.

"For some time he was one of the instructors in physical culture at Harvard college and will probably go back there again as soon as the vacation is over.

"Yokel, from a green town boy with little or no training as an athlete, but possessed with an inordinate desire to learn and a good physical frame has developed in a broad shouldered, deep chested, clean-cut athlete."

MILLER AND EHMAN
TWIRL TOMORROW

Tail Sash Artist Has Split Even on Games Pitched Against the Localists This Season.

Southpaw Miller and the elongated Ehman will be the opposing twirlers in the concluding game of the series with Wellsville at Central park tomorrow afternoon. So far this season Ehman has pitched four games against the locals and has done no better than split even, two victories and two defeats. Miller outpitched him in the first game of the series last Wednesday and is confident he can turn the trick again. Ehman has been a puzzler to the local batsmen and in none of the four games has he been hit hard. His first game here this season was with the Marines, a 9 to 4 victory for the locals. Ehman was hit safely nine times. He won the second game, 5 to 5, with Barker in the box for East

Liverpool, holding us to five hits. The opening game of the Wellsville series was a loser for him, 3 to 2, the locals getting five hits in this game. He won the last game of the series, 4 to 3, allowing eight hits.

East Liverpool has now won five out of six games, and although this clinches both series the fans are anxious to see them win the remaining games, making it seven out of eight. The lineups for tomorrow will remain practically the same except for the change of twirlers.

ATHLETICS WILL PLAY

At Steubenville Tomorrow and They Anticipate Another Scalp—Ashbaugh to Pitch.

The Athletics, of the Crookery City league, will play at Steubenville tomorrow and expect to give their opponents a drubbing similar to that suffered by East Palestine last week. Ashbaugh will be in the box for the locals and notwithstanding his poor exhibition Wednesday he will no doubt deliver the goods.

The lineup of the Athletics will be as follows: Emmerling, c; Ashbaugh, p; McAvoy, s; Tyson, 1b; Stilwell, 2b; Davis, 3b; Trainer, lf; Carey, m; Bennett, rf; Allison and George Emmerling will be on the bench.

The Athletics will play at Leetsdale in two weeks. They are going to try the tricks of Pitcher Good.

"Rube" Waddell has twice scored 13 strikes out, once at Chicago and once at St. Louis. Matthewson made this record once.

An attempt is being made to bring together the Pacific coast league and the National League of Professional Base Ball clubs.

The Boston Nationals are carrying 12 players on their trip. They have five pitchers, one catcher, three infielders and three outfielders.

Wagner, of the Pirates, is at the top of the National league batters with an average of .358. Bresnahan, of New York, is second with .361.

For Bold Attempts at Burglary.

Burglars, sneak thieves and pick-pockets were at work with a vengeance in the city yesterday. Luckily, however, they were successful in but one attempt at realizing profit. The cases numbering in the neighborhood of a dozen were all reported to central station, but so far only one of the daring men has been captured.

Charles ("Chongey") Carraher, one of the most notorious crooks of this vicinity, who has spent many days behind the bars for thefts, burglaries, etc., will be taken to the county jail at Lisbon tomorrow morning by Chief Wyman, there to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of house-breaking. The charge was preferred against him by Mrs. C. T. Hard, of Kosuth street. Carraher was seen to be tampering around a window at the rear of the Hard home early in the afternoon by a neighbor woman. The latter watched his maneuvers until he entered the basement and then she ran to the front of the house and warned Mrs. Hard, who was standing on the porch.

Mrs. Hard, showing extraordinary nerve, bravely walked into the house and upon entering the dining room she saw the man fumbling around the silverware on the sideboard. The man looked up very much surprised and when Mrs. Hard asked him what he was doing he failed to reply, instead he ran down the cellar way and made his escape through a window by which he entered. Mrs. Hard then rushed to the telephone and asked central to notify the police to hurry to the home. Chief Morley and Pat Woods answered the call, but upon their arrival the would-be burglar had escaped. Mrs. Hard, however, gave them a clear description of him and they soon had Carraher under arrest. They found him on Sixth street and escorted him to the city jail. Later in the evening Mrs. Hard and the lady who first saw him were summoned to the city hall and upon their positive identification of him he was held. Carraher was arraigned this morning and pleading not guilty he was bound over to court. The mayor could not come to a final conclusion in his case, owing to the character of the crime. The penalty is $300 and six months.

Other residences in the vicinity of the Hard home were also approached by Carraher, but so far as is known he failed to make an entrance. The

MIND A BLANK OWING TO BLOWS

Young Man Beaten by Highway-men Near Salem Until Nearly Dead.

A HORRIBLE EXPERIENCE

Salem, July 24.—Beaten into insensibility by highwaymen and robbed of a considerable sum of money and valuable papers is the experience which befel Bert Durr, a prosperous young farmer residing on the Ellsworth road, north of this city five miles, at an early hour Monday morning. The case has just come to light. The bold attack occurred near the station at Ellsworth, and as to its details the young man can remember but little. He was so severely beaten about the head and face that he is now in bed and under a physician's care.

Mr. Durr on Sunday evening drove up to Milton township, Mahoning county, to visit friends. He started home late and remembers having driven to a spot this side of the Ellsworth station, and from that time on his mind is a blank.

About 2 o'clock Monday morning Mr. Durr's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Durr, were aroused by hearing some person calling. They investigated, and upon opening the door were horrified to see their son standing near, apparently out of his senses and with blood on his head and face. The young man could say little other than to tell his folks to search for his horse. Then he lapsed into a state of unconsciousness and talked no more.

Further investigation showed that Mr. Durr must have been completely out of his mind when he arrived home, as he had tied his horse to a fence nearby and in the yard. The animal showed no signs of misuse. It was also ascertained that Mr. Durr's pocket-book was missing and with it $25 in money and valuable checks and notes, payment on which has been withheld against.

After daylight Monday a friend tracked Mr. Durr's horse back to Ellsworth, which he could easily do owing to the fact that the animal was shod in a peculiar manner. Near Ellsworth station, six miles from the Durr home, tracks in the dusty road showed that the horse had been stopped and other tracks about in great profusion revealed the fact that there had been a struggle of some kind. Aside from the foot prints, which constituted rather indefinite things upon which to investigate such a serious case, there is no clue to the perpetrators of the bold outrage.

Even now, when Mr. Durr is himself again, he can remember nothing of the occurrence in which he lost his money and possibly came near being killed. Marks on his head and face indicate that he was struck by some blunt instrument and that the holdup had been deliberately planned by persons who were familiar with Mr. Durr's affairs and knew he generally carried money with him.

It is supposed that Mr. Durr dropped to sleep, or at least dozed, as he was passing the Ellsworth station, and that the highwaymen took advantage of this fact and struck him on the head before he could recover from his sleep. After rifling his pockets, which was evidently done by a second party while the unconscious form was in the buggy, while another held the horse by the head, the thugs evidently started the horse on its way and the animal wandered home without a guiding hand. It is believed that when the horse stopped abruptly Mr. Durr came to sufficiently to tie it and wander to the house.

ZIMMERMAN IS GAINING

Tom Johnson May Have a Hard Time to Beat Him For Nomination.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, July 24.—John L. Zimmerman, of Springfield, is developing surprising strength over the state in his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor, and it begins to look as if Mayor Tom Johnson will have a hard time of it beating him out for this honor. Were it left to the rank and file and many of the subordinate leaders Zimmerman would win with hands down. If Johnson decides he wants the nomination there will be a stiff fight.

Congressman Doc Norton, of Tiffin, can see nothing but disaster ahead for the Democracy in Ohio with Johnson as its leader. Says he: "Johnson is as erratic as a cat and as revengeful as Satan." Norton blames his defeat for re-election last fall on Johnson.

General Charles Dick, of Akron, came to town yesterday, but will only stay a day or two. He will be here regularly from the 3d of August. He is conferring with John L. Malloy, secretary of the state committee, and others relative to work of the campaign bureau established here by the committee. No one seems to know who will be the Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor. Anthony Howells, of Massillon, was the nominee two years ago.

An opinion has been rendered to Secretary of State Laylin by Attorney General Sheets that corporations, for profit which have not opened their books for subscriptions, are liable for the minimum Willis law tax of $10.

These prisoners have been discharged from the penitentiary upon expiration of sentences: Thomas Rollins, two years for cutting to kill, Columbiana county; Jacob Hennis, 18 months for biting to disfigure, Jefferson county; and Charles White, one year for forgery, Stark county. White's real name is Frank Hamilton.

James Fetzer, of Columbiana, was in the city yesterday. He is vice president and traveling representative of a firm with headquarters at Fremont which manufactures carriage forgings and bicycle attachments.

LOTS OF BABIES IN COMPETITION

Prizes Awarded to the Prettiest Boy and Girl and to the Fattest.

Whom the Committee, Entrusted With the Difficult Duty of Selecting the Prize Winners, Had to Judge—Carnival Closes Tonight.

The last day of the carnival, being held in this city under the auspices of the Grand Army, promises to be the best attended and most interesting since the show began. The carnival has been well patronized throughout the week and the members of the post feel grateful to the citizens generally for their appreciation of a really meritorious attraction.

The baby show was held yesterday and was a grand success. This feature was conducted by the ladies of the Relief Corps, and was one of the most interesting of the week. The event had been well advertised, and mothers from every quarter of the city and far out in the country were on the ground at the appointed time. There were all kinds of babies, fat babies, thin babies, bald headed babies and babies with dimpled feet. In every case they looked just like their papa, and in the opinion of the fond mother were the very finest that ever was. The show was conducted at the Grand Army hall and occupied the time from 2:30 until 5 o'clock.

In all 27 babies were on exhibition, all of which had been entered as the very best baby in the world. A committee had been very carefully selected, and the names were withheld until the very last in order that no irregularity could be charged. The list was as follows: John Martin, Jr., June Long, Edith Elliott, Francis McCloskey, Gerald Springer, Harry Merle Butler, Frederick Allison, Elsie Robertson, Emma Gale Staats, Ruth Willets, Violet Davis, Constance Green, William Carl Densmore, Helen Worcester, Robert Robinson, Florence Gordon, Mildred Prosser, Marie Wallace, Gordon, Morris, Charles S. Patterson, Henry Marshall, Dorothy Mountford, Wayne Morrow, Alina Moon, Mara Owen.

Prizes had been offered for the prettiest girl baby, the prettiest boy baby and the fattest baby. It required over an hour for the judges to determine upon the winners and the result was announced at about 5 o'clock. The winners were as follows:

Prettiest girl baby—Ruth N. Willets, 7 months, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Willets.

Prettiest boy baby—Robert Robinson, 5 months.

Fattest baby—William C. Densmore. The prize winners were each given a beautiful silver cup, and to each baby present was presented a souvenir spoon, which each in turn promptly conveyed to its mouth instead of the regular thumb action.

The colored baby show is being held this afternoon, and the indications from the number of entries received to the present are that there will be a large number of contestants.

The grand pyrotechnic display will be given tonight, representing the streets of St. Pierre and the eruption of Mt. Pelee will be reproduced in a wonderfully vivid and realistic manner.

GOLD QUARTZ AT WELLSVILLE

Cemetery Hill Reported Rich in Precious Metal.
Assay Shows $700 to the Ton.

According to the story of John Jefferies, of Wellsville, gold quartz of almost incalculable value was discovered a few days ago on his place near the base of Cemetery hill. The discovery was made by drillers who were sinking a water well on the place.

If the quartz can be found in any quantity Jefferies will become fabulously wealthy.

Jefferies, who had been watching the progress of the drilling on his place, first noticed the quartz several days ago, when the hole was at a depth of about 38 feet. The cone brought up by the drill had a peculiar color and appearance and his curiosity was at once aroused. He suspected that it contained particles of the precious metal. A quantity of the rock was sent by him to the assayers of the Western Reserve university and in a few days he received from them a statement that the sample showed the presence of gold to the value of $700 in a ton of the quartz.

The result of the assay has been made public by Jefferies and has aroused a great deal of excitement.

A TEAM STOLEN IN WELLSVILLE

Fine Pair of Horses Driven Off by Harry Potts, a Local Character.

THIEF CAUGHT AND JAILED

One of the boldest robberies in the history of Wellsville was perpetrated yesterday, and though the first part of the scheme worked admirably, the thief is now in custody and will be taken before the grand jury.

Mrs. Philip N. McLean and daughter, Miss Alice, who reside at the Scotch settlement, north of Wellsville, came to town to do some shopping. The ladies drove a match team of valuable bay horses, held by their owner to be worth $400. They hitched the team in front of the business establishment of J. J. Dowling, and were busy for some time with their marketing.

A short time after the team had been tied up, Harry Potts, a well known character of the town, deliberately walked to the hitching post, untied the horses and taking a seat in the buggy drove off. He proceeded west on Broadway to Eighth street and along that thoroughfare to Main. He passed the barn of McLean Bros., cousins of the owners of the team, and although their attention was attracted to the outfit and it was recognized by them, gave the occurrence but a passing notice. Potts was soon out of sight and during the day visited Hammondsville, Irondale and several other towns in the vicinity.

It was some time after the theft was committed before the loss was discovered, and then the ladies reported at once to the McLean Bros.' barn. Daniel McLean, one of the brothers, immediately hunted up Chief Houser and the wires were kept hot for several hours. Some confusion was caused by a misunderstanding on the part of the officers at Irondale and Sallineville, they thinking that the missing team was gray. Marshal Higgins, of Sallineville, got a clue to the missing outfit at Monroeville, and going there was just in time to apprehend the thief and get possession of the stolen property. The team was driven back to Wellsville and Potts was taken to the Sallineville jail. Meantime Philip McLean, the owner of the horses, had been communicated with and last evening made information against Potts in the court of Justice A. C. MacKenzie. A warrant was sworn out and placed in the hands of Constable Spires, who left for Sallineville on the midnight train. He returned to the city at noon and a hearing was immediately held.

Potts was held in $500 bail for the grand jury, in default of which he was taken to Lisbon jail, Constable Spires starting with him on the hack this afternoon.

SOLEMN SERVICES TO BE HELD IN MEMORY OF POPE LEO XIII IN ALL CATHOLIC CHURCHES

The Order Issued by Bishop Horstmann Received by Father Smyth, of St. Aloysius, Today.

Rev. Bishop Horstmann, of the Cleveland diocese, of which this city is a part, has issued an order, received in this city today, which will govern the obsequy exercises to be observed in memory of the late Pope Leo XIII. Throughout the official communication are tender words for the dead pope.

The invitation to the priests of the diocese to attend the Pontifical High Mass to be celebrated in the Cleveland Cathedral at 9 o'clock Monday morning will be accepted by Rev. Father T. M. Smyth and Rev. Father T. J. Mahan, if circumstances permit.

St. Aloysius' church will be draped for the period of 30 days and the other services authorized by the bishop will be observed.

Following is the full text of the communication:

"To the Reverend Clergy and Devoted Laity of the Diocese of Cleveland: 'Leo XIII is dead! Such was the sad cable dispatch of last Monday noon; and we are sure that at once, wherever the news came, a fervent prayer went up to the great Bishop of Souls, our Lord Jesus Christ, for mercy on His faithful viceroy, Leo. Leo was indeed great in real sense of the word. Grand in intelligence, grand and powerful in will, grand in heart, with a love of God, of the church and of humanity, like to that of the sacred heart of his Divine Master. Over ninety-three years old, we could scarcely hope that he would be able to overcome his serious illness, but the news of his death still came as a shock not only to every Catholic heart, but also to the whole world. His career as pope for over twenty-five years endeared him to all humanity, king and peasant, to learned and ignorant, to rich and poor—to all he proved himself their best benefactor.

"Lumen in coelo! A light in the heavens—such has been his whole life, but especially as the chief watchman in the towers of Israel, preaching, warning, exhorting and teaching the whole human race. We thank God for having given us such a pope and for having spared his life of usefulness for so many years. We thank God for the tributes of praise which have been given him by all, irrespective of race, nationality or religious belief. All declare that he was a great man, a good man, a grand benefactor of the human race. All deplore his death. 'Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord. Amen,' smith the Spirit, 'for they rest from their labors and their works do follow them.' Yes, Leo is at rest; but his many and great works have pleaded for him as he stood before his Judge.

FOOT BADLY CRUSHED BY MOVING CAR

William Carman Meets With a Painful
Mishap on the Street Railway.

While attempting to board a street car in Wellsville last night shortly after 9 o'clock, William Carman, brother of T. O. Carman, of this city, met with an accident which will cause him to be laid up for weeks and which may result in permanent lameness. Carman has been working at Mingo for several months and was en route to this city last evening for a short vacation, when he was hurt. He was standing on Third street, Wellsville, near the Metropole hotel, awaiting the arrival of the street car, when it very suddenly appeared and though he hurried to the middle of the street the motorcar, it is said, did not make any pretense at stopping the car for him, but instead, it is alleged, increased the power.

Carman made a leap for the front end of the car and one of his hands only got a hold. The grasp was obtained on the second handle bar and the sudden jerk of the car threw him underneath. The wheels passed over his left foot and badly mashed it. Spectators ran to his assistance and removed him to the home of a friend where physicians were summoned. They found the foot to be cut badly and though the entire foot will not be amputated, at least two of the toes will have to come off.

The injured man will be removed to this city this evening.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

CLAY MEN PICNIC.

The clay diggers employed at the East End mines held a picnic Wednesday afternoon and report a fine time. Robert Parker, of Wellsville, was called upon to make the music and he did so to the satisfaction of all. Speeches were made by James Parker and George Dobbs, and on the whole the day was most enjoyably spent. Those at the picnic were James Parker, Alf McKinnon, George Dobbs, Sheridan Berry and Charles Metz.

STILL FIGHTING.

The title of the new pottery being built at Mannington reflects the sentiment of that town in a "new county" fight which has been waged fiercely for many years. Mannington has long wanted to be the county seat of a new county to be called Augusta, a movement that has been successfully opposed by Fairmont, the seat of Marion county, of which Mannington is a part. Thousands of dollars were spent by both sides at the state legislature last fall and the Augusta county fight was the most spectacular thing of the session. Mannington people intend to keep the fight up, and so, in subscribing $45,000 stock and a large free site, they were largely induced to be liberal because it was stipulated that the pottery would be called the "Augusta." Many secret order lodges in the town have adopted the name, while nearly all the girl babies are christened the same.

GAVE UP THE CONTRACT.

During the midsummer loaf now drawing to a close three well known potters have been engaged at an occupation which was entirely new to them. Fred Anderson, Frank March and Willis Ross took a contract to move William Leigh's personal effects from his bachelor's quarters to his new establishment fitted up since his marriage a few weeks ago. Mr. Leigh, having lived for many years in single blessedness, and being a studious individual had accumulated a large number of books and magazines. The contractors, because of their lack of experience in the moving line, now assert they were mistaken. They say they carried magazines for three whole days and then gave up the job in despair. They told the pottery reporter they would now confine their time to the pottery business without any side issues.

PARKERSBURG'S NEW PLANT.

Work is progressing rapidly on the new buildings of the Southside Pottery company in the East End, Parkersburg. The main building, which is now almost ready for the roof, will be 70x80 feet and in the center will be three stories high. It is frame. As soon as the main building is completed work will be begun on the other buildings. One of them will be 35x70 feet and the other 20x80 feet. They will be completed about the first of September.

TO MAKE A NEW LINE.

George B. Harvey, of the Thomas China company, Lisbon, says: "It is true the plant will be shut down, but not because of finances. It will soon present to the trade a new line of ware, making porcelain instead of semi-porcelain, and the present shut-down will be for the purpose of arranging for that improvement. The Thomas China company is sound as a gold dollar."

TIRED OF FARMING.

Sherman Vincent, the well known kiln drawer, employed at Cartwright's, has tired of farming and disposed of his place near Calcutta to again take up his residence in this city. His experience as a tiller of the soil provided a great deal of amusement for his shop mates.

IN ZANESVILLE.

John Bishop, the well known modeler of this city, has gone to Zanesville, where he will remain for several weeks. Mr. Bishop has secured the contract for the creation of a new shape at the pottery there and is now hard at work upon the model.

HE IS A FRIEND OF JOHN WYMAN

So Says Thomas Cannon—His Reason for Supporting Police Ordinance.

Thomas Cannon, member of council from the Fourth ward, who was one of the six who voted against the retention of Chief of Police Wyman, objects to the statement that he supported the move to reduce the police force in sympathy with the saloon element and its interests.

It will be remembered that Mr. Cannon was absent from the meeting at which the police ordinance was amended, and it was the subject of some speculation as to what stand he would take in the matter. Some of his constituents expressed their displeasure and others openly accused him of playing with the saloon keepers.

"I cannot imagine what reason any one who knows me could have in attempting to connect me with the saloon element," said Mr. Cannon to a News Review reporter this morning.

"I am as good a friend of John Wyman as he possesses in East Liverpool, and if it were possible I would as soon see him in the position of chief of police as any man in East Liverpool. As a neighbor, a friend and an officer I have the very highest regard for John Wyman. Every one who was posted on the situation in the Fourth ward at the nomination and election knows that I was not the saloon men's candidate, and in order to satisfy myself on the matter, I took the trouble to inquire of one of them as to who their man was. They told me without hesitation, and I, of course, acted accordingly. My interpretation of the code shows me that under no circumstances can Mr. Wyman be construed as being in the classified list, and that nothing else has prompted my actions in this matter."

Numerous Criminals Awaiting Execution in the Penitentiary at Columbus.

Columbus, July 24.—(Special)—The death chamber at the penitentiary will soon be the temporary abiding place of five condemned murderers. Three are new occupants of it—the two Wade brothers from Toledo, and Philip Nagle from Upper Sandusky, and in a few days the wife strangler, Alfred Knapp, who was found guilty of first degree murder, without recommendation of mercy, at Hamilton week before last, and Lewis Harmon, in whose case a similar verdict was rendered at Columbus Saturday night, will be placed in the annex.

Knapp confessed to the committing of several atrocious murders, women and children being his victims. He killed three wives. Harmon shot down in cold blood an aged farmer named George Geyer, whose home he entered at Alton, near this city, about six weeks ago in company with a pal named Miles Wallingford, for the purpose of robbery. Both had served terms in the penitentiary. Wallingford as a horse thief. Texas was his stamping ground, where he was the leader of a band of desperadoes. He was sent here by the federal government. He fled south after the Geyer murder was committed, but was soon captured. He suicided in jail.

Harmon was 23 years old and was reared near Akron. He took the verdict coolly, and expressed the wish that his taking to the annex be not long deferred, because he understands condemned men are given the most palatable and choicest food. He is said to be a gourmand.

FOUND HANGING IN A HAYLOFT

Well Dressed Unknown Committed Suicide in a Mahoning County Barn.

Youngstown, July 24.—The body of a well dressed man, presumably a suicide, was found hanging in a barn loft at North Jackson. The barn is on the property of Mrs. W. J. Crawford. No person about the premises has any knowledge of the man. No trace of his actions previous to his death has developed since the finding. All efforts to identify the remains have proven unsuccessful.

The remains were those of a gentle appearing person. As soon as the discovery was made the affair was reported to Dr. Zimmerman, who responded and found the unfortunate dead.

Before a preliminary examination of the remains were made the information was telephoned to this city and Coroner Blott was notified.

Dr. Blott made further inquiry by telephone and finds that the remains of the dead man have evidently been hanging in the barn for possibly more than a week and the remains are in a bad state of decomposition.

LOW AWNINGS MUST GO HIGHER

The Safety Board Issues Orders Against Obstructing the Sidewalks.

A RIGID ENFORCEMENT

Of the Law Upon the Subject Determined Upon at the Meeting Last Night—Other Business of Minor Importance Receives Attention.

The ordinance regulating awnings is to be rigidly enforced. Mr. Taylor, of the board of public safety, protested at the regular meeting last evening against the violations of the ordinance and his motion to the effect that Chief Wyman enforce the ordinance to the letter was passed. The ordinance is very stringent, providing a heavy fine for any violation and reads as follows:

"No person, persons or corporations shall place or allow to remain any awning of wood or any other substance in front of his, their or its property, unless the same shall be suspended from the building alone and have no supports resting on sidewalks or streets, or cause any signs of wood or any other substance to be suspended across or over any sidewalk so as to obstruct the view along the sidewalk, or shall build or erect any platform, porch, piazza, stairway or other fixtures intended to be permanent upon or over any sidewalk or erect any awning over any sidewalk, unless the lowest point of the awning, sign, platform, porch or piazza be at least eight feet above the sidewalk.

Other business transacted by the board was of minor importance. President Grafton stated that he and Chief Morley had located the site for a fire plug in the East End and read an opinion of the city solicitor as to the authority of the safety board in doing such work. The decision was to the effect that the safety board has jurisdiction over the placing of a plug and that it can expend any sum not exceeding $500 in such work; providing, however, that the amount will not cause an over draft in the safety fund.

A communication submitted by J. J. McFadden was read by Clerk Huntsman. It stated that a fire plug in front of his residence on Walnut street obstructs the natural flow of water and causes water to course down onto his property. He said he would hold the city liable for any damage incurred by the obstruction. The board thought the matter was up to the board of public service and a committee was appointed to confer with the latter board.

A number of bills were presented for the board's consideration and of the total number but two were held up. The bill of H. E. Moon, which was presented several weeks ago and turned down on the ground that the city cannot contract a debt with a city official, was again laid over, pending a decision of the solicitor. The bill of the spring water company was also turned down, the board thinking it policy to get some information as to who ordered the debt. The board stated emphatically that it would not pay any bills which it did not contract.

The following applications were received for positions under the board: John McDonald, fireman; Richard Winn, night watchman at city hall; Sam A. Shipley, policeman; James H. Hargraves, night watchman; T. O. Terrance, fireman. The latter has had experience in the work and would doubt make a good officer.

The board adjourned to meet next Tuesday evening when it will continue the work of drafting rules.

End relatives and will return to their

at the Indiana normal school, Indiana,
Pa., this being his first term.

Owing to his long experience in the

Kinley park, near Somerset. He will be gone two weeks and expects to have a fine time.

Will Visit England.

was thought at the time of the occur-

most dreaded, has now passed.

GRAUSTARK

We have a good one for our readers now—GRAUSTARK,
THE STORY OF A LOVE BEHIND A THRONE, BY GEORGE
BARR MCCUTCHEON.

¶ Marie Bankhead Owen, reviewing the story in the Bookworm, says: A practical bookman has just said, "no book since Trilby has taken so great a hold on the popular fancy
as Graustark."

¶ Being a story of love behind a throne, it teems with scenes of adventure and impassioned romance.

¶ The author, George Barr McCutcheon, himself an American, has given the reader a noble example of an ideal
American as hero.

¶ The plot is thrilling and well sustained, the story being told in vivid, terse English.

¶ The motive of the story is the love of a man and a woman, and what that love emboldens them to venture, to dare, to renounce, to endure!

¶ It is beyond the province of the reviewer to reduce the plot of a masterpiece of fiction to a compressed summary of the story. A zealous story reader delights in the discovery of what happened next as well as to revel in the style and the literary atmosphere.

¶ I would as soon be given a glass of skimmed milk or a squeezed lemon as a book of fiction accompanied with a synopsis of its contents. Graustark I leave therefore to the pleasure of the prospective reader.

WILL THOROUGHLY ENJOY IT. OF ONE THING WE ARE SURE—A MORE THRILLING ROMANCE YOU HAVE NEVER READ.

Kansas City, July 24.—Because of an increase of about 7 cents on a ton
in the wages paid coal miners of the southwest the operators have, it is stated, decided to increase the cost of fuel to consumers from 50c to $1 a ton.
The increase will apply to all kinds of coal used by householders and small manufacturing plants and it is probable that before winter sets in there will be a further increase in the prices.

VISIONARY ESTATE

Reputed Millions of the Whitaker Fortune Again Reported Non-Existant.

The following editorial from the Toledo Blade will be of interest in Columbiana county, many of the Whitaker or Whitacre "heirs" residing here:

"The Philadelphia North American
has done good service for a whole lot of Whitakers who have been led to believe that they had an interest in an alleged estate of $200,000,000. According to the claims the Bank of England held this amount in its vaults
subject to payment as soon as the identity of the heirs could be established.
"The Philadelphia paper placed it self in communication with the Bank of England and was informed that no
such estate existed, so far as the bank
officials knew, and that no such sum of money was awaiting the pleasure
of the Whitaker heirs.

"This is an illustration of a hundred similar cases. Shyster lawyers work on the characteristic cupidity of the human race and wring many a dollar
from the poor in prosecution of claims that have no more foundation in fact than the Whitaker case. And it is the duty of newspapers in every community to expose these frauds."

A SPECTACULAR FALL CAMPAIGN

Democrats Led by Johnson Map
Out Numerous Circus Features.

HARD FIGHT TO BE MADE

By the Cleveland Mayor to Land the Gubernatorial Nomination — Anything to Down Zimmerman Appears
to Be His Rallying Cry.

Columbus, July 24.—"Red Devils," special trains, gaily decorated horses
and buggies may be expected to be seen touring the state in the fall for the purpose of making votes for the Democratic state ticket. Just how many votes will be made, and whether the proposed advertising will be the best thing for the party, no one here cares to venture an opinion. That the coming campaign will be spectacular
in every respect goes without saying.
It appears that no person is being taken into the confidences of the Hon.
Tom L. Johnson, of Cleveland, in this matter, but he has plans mapped out,
and more ideas in his head about which he has said nothing. That Tom
L. Johnson is going to make a hard fight for the nomination for governor of the great state of Ohio at the Democratic state convention in this city
August 25 there is not the least doubt.
He has not said that he would, neither has he been quoted as saying that he would not.

It seems to be the cry of the Johnson-Bryan-Lentz Democrats in the central part of the state, that anything
will do to defeat Zimmerman, of Springfield. No one has just found out why Zimmerman must be defeated at
the general election, but there is some reason that will soon come out. The recent visit of Johnson to the Bryan summer retreat appears to have started the fact that Johnson would be a candidate. After an all day conference there, Bryan agreed to come to this state in the fall, and if Johnson
at that time did not propose to be a candidate for the nomination of what use would there be in Bryan coming here?

As soon as the statement was made known that Bryan was to come to Ohio, that moment the fact that Johnson proposed to be a candidate for the nomination was as good as announced by the Cleveland mayor himself. It appears that Zimmerman is a little too conservative to suit the Johnson followers, and can and is considered by some in that same class as is Cleveland. In other words, Zimmerman is thought to be a Cleveland Democrat. Bryan, when he comes to the Buckeye state, will warn all the Democratic voters who chance to hear him, and possibly a few Republicans who will listen to him throughout of curiosity, of the dangers of Cleveland-
ism. Democrats must, in the estimation of Johnson and Bryan, adhere strictly to the famous old Kansas City platform. To them the star of victory is perched on those planks. It is well that they think so, for in Ohio there are many Democrats who are only awaiting the chance to get away from something that in their estimation is sure defeat at not only a national election, but a state election as well.

Johnson just now is keeping his own counsel. McLean is doing a little talking. It is rumored, for the announcement is made that the Cincinnati publisher and resident of Washington is coming home from an European trip to enter the battle of ballots in Ohio, and that he will be on the conservative side—meaning the side of Zimmerman. If this be true, and there is every reason to believe that it is so, a fight that will be worth going miles to see will be waged by the Johnson and Zimmerman factions on
the convention floor.

When McLean and his forces are sprayed on one side and the Bryan-Johnson-Lentz forces on the other appear on the convention floor what a story there will then be told. If the Zimmerman faction should win the glory of the day it will be goodbye to all the old planks in the Kansas City platform and Bryanism for a time at least.

But, if the tables are reversed, and Johnson is nominated, it will be a grand old day for Billy from Nebraska.
Lentz will also feel good for they do say that this ex-congressman is seeking a seat in the walls at Washington.
There is not much chance of the Columbus attorney getting this honor, however.

Go Prepared.

In preparing for your summer outing a little forethought may save you no end of trouble. Mr. John H. Manly, a dry goods merchant, of Belleville, R. I., while packing an outfit for camping a few weeks on Narragansett Bay, put in a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for emergency use. The second day in camp
his little boy was taken with cramp colic.
The first dose of this remedy gave relief and the second dose effected a cure. Think of the pain and suffering this boy would have had to endure without this remedy at hand
fatally. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

Though it has been three weeks since the Fourth of July was celebrated, the list of those killed and injured during the celebration is by no means complete. Every day additional deaths from lockjaw, due to wounds inflicted by toy pistols, are reported. The blank cartridges are proving as deadly as if they contained bullets, the only difference being that their victims linger and suffer longer. It is claimed that the sale of either blank cartridges or toy pistols to minors is forbidden by the laws of Ohio, and the following section of the revised statutes certainly seems broad enough to warrant the authorities everywhere in the state in sternly suppressing the trade in these deadly playthings: "Whoever sells, barter or gives away to any minor under the age of 14 years, any air gun, musket, rifle, revolver, pistol or other firearm, of any kind or description whatever, or ammunition for the same, or whoever being the owner or having charge or control of any such air gun, rifle, etc., knowingly permits the same to be used by any such minor, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding $100, or imprisoned in jail not exceeding 30 days, or both."

That a boy and a loaded revolver are a dangerous combination is a fact universally admitted. It is strange that numerous sad accidents, like that reported from Wellsville yesterday, have not yet impressed upon parents the necessity and wisdom of keeping the two apart.

Low awnings must be elevated, says the board of public safety. Tall men who have been compelled to stoop or risk the loss of their hats as they passed along the sidewalks will rejoice. Such awnings are both unnecessary and unsightly.

Sorry to read that the "catfish work" of the local attorneys is at an end. We had supposed that most of them were still good for several years of that sort of thing. The Cherry Picker appears to think otherwise, however.

The latest Kentucky sensation reported is that one prominent Blue Grass district gentleman called another a liar and no shooting followed. Doubtless the man whose veracity was attacked was not a native.

The next time Mr. "Chongeye" Caraher is sentenced, East Liverpool strongly hopes that the judge will not overlook the fact that he is a habitual criminal and treat him accordingly.

RESTRAINING YOUNGSTOWN & SOUTHERN FROM WORK.

Right of Way Dispute Leads to Legal Proceedings Against New Road.

Youngstown, July 24.—The new Youngstown & Southern Railroad company ran against its first legal snag yesterday when it was enjoined by common pleas court at the instance of George Baldwin, of Boardman, who tells in his petition the cause of his action against the new corporations.

The title of the proceedings is George Baldwin, versus the Youngstown & Southern Railroad company, J. W. Fawcett, Veeder Heasley and Patrick M. Joyce. The document proclaims that the company is engaged in constructing a railroad from Youngstown to East Liverpool and the other three defendants are contractors engaged upon the work; that said railroad will pass through Boardman township where defendant owns 192 acres of land; that the proposed road will pass through his farm, but not where he has sold the company a right of way; that the original right of way was located on a different portion of his property, but that the company has now changed the course of the road from the original survey. He prays the court for an order temporarily restraining further work in this direction and that the injunction be made permanent.

Judge Robinson granted a temporary injunction and ordered that plaintiff give bond in the sum of $300 with sufficient surety. Baldwin was to receive $1,000 for the right of way upon his farms upon completion of the road, according to the original survey and agreement.

ELKSEND CONVENTION

Business Sessions of Grand Lodge Finishes With Installation of Officers.

LARGEST MEETING EVER HELD

Pleasure Now Rules the Hour and All Are Out for Good Time—Many Visitors Departing for Other Cities.

Baltimore, July 24.—What many of the members of the grand lodge of Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks claim to have been the largest and most successful grand lodge meeting in the history of the organization has come to a close. There were 1,964 grand lodge members in the city and a great majority attended every business session. The nearest approach to this number is said to have been at the Milwaukee reunion in 1901, when there were 720 present. The actual number of visitors during the week is hard to approximate, as many of the Elks failed to register at headquarters and there were hosts of sight-seers from contiguous territory as well as from distant points.

There were two sessions of the grand lodge during the day, at the first of which only routine matters were discussed. At the evening session it was decided to restore its charter to the Macon, Ga., lodge. The committee on ritual was not prepared to report all the changes proposed and the matter was carried over, the committee being instructed to report a complete ritual when it is agreed upon. A resolution was adopted discouraging the throwing of confetti during future grand lodge meetings. It is said that many of the more conservative members urged the adoption of this resolution.

Resolutions of Thanks Adopted. Resolutions of thanks and commendation to the local lodge, to the mayor and city council of Baltimore and to the merchants and people generally, upon "the magnificent reception, electrical and other displays, and for the hospitality shown visiting Elks during the week," were adopted.

The installation of officers followed, each outgoing and incoming officer delivering a short address. Grand Exalted Ruler Joseph T. Fanning, of Indianapolis, then declared the grand lodge adjourned sine die to meet in Cincinnati next year, and to the strains of "Maryland, My Maryland," the grand lodge members dispersed, nearly all singing the anthem as they left the hall.

The night was given up to jollification by the Elks, visitors and citizens. Bands paraded the streets and "Hello, Bill," the shillbboleth of the order, was heard on every side.

Many of the visitors, especially from the southern and western states, are leaving for northern trips, taking in Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Atlantic City. Those from distant points who desired to see the national capital have visited Washington during the week.

Crabs in All Styles.

The last steamer to arrive from Tolchester beach reached her pier at midnight. General "Caterer" Thomas F. McNulty, of this city, who planned the feast, stated that the crowd of visitors numbered no fewer than 20,000 persons. Many private yachts and equipages swelled the number taken to the beach by the Baltimore steamers. Crabs with concomitants were served in every conceivable style. There were soft crabs, hard boiled crabs, steamed crabs, fried hard and soft crabs, crab soup and deviled crabs. He estimates that at least 60,000 dozens of crabs were eaten during the day. Many of the visitors enjoyed a plunge in the Chesapeake during the day. At midnight all the strangers in the city have retired to their hotels and the streets are practically deserted.

Two 150-horse power boilers are being placed in position here for the new ice plant being erected by Judge P. M. Smith. The machinery was brought in over the belt line of the C. & P., being the first freight handled over that branch.

NEW BOAT LAUNCHED

The Cruise Will Carry Passengers Between Wellsville and Congo.

The new ferry boat Crusoe, Capt. Watson Johnston, proprietor, was successfully launched at Congo yesterday afternoon. The boat is propelled by means of two powerful gasoline engines, and her initial voyage was satisfactory in every way. The old flat boat ferry will now be relegated to the shade.

An alarm of fire from box No. 12 called the department yesterday afternoon to Maple alley, in the rear of the Star restaurant, where the cook shed of that eating house was ablaze, having caught from a gas stove. Mayor Fogo drove the hose wagon, which made a brilliant run. The loss was slight.

WANTS CONVEYANCE TO BE SET ASIDE

George Rambo, of East Liverpool, Alleges a Fraudulent Transfer By M. P. Wilton.

Lisbon, July 24.—(Special)—George Rambo, of East Liverpool, is plaintiff in a suit filed against Moreton P. Wilton and the Pottery Building & Savings company, asking that the conveyance of a three-acre tract in East Liverpool be set aside and that he may recover a judgment of $75 from Wilton with interest from May 1, 1903.

The plaintiff says that on April 1, last, he made a verbal agreement with Wilton whereby the plaintiff was to dig a well for him on the premises and furnish the material for completing it. The well was finished May 1 and at that time Wilton was the owner of the premises. Rambo says only $50 of his claim has been paid, leaving $75 due, for which he has valid lien against the property. He says Wilton has put the property in his wife's name, to defraud his creditors, and asks that this conveyance be set aside and the Pottery Building & Savings company be required to set up an alleged claim against the premises.

A FINE ENTERTAINMENT

To Be Presented Monday Evening Under the Auspices of Chester Jr. O. U. A. M.

A competent committee is making arrangements for an entertainment to be given under the auspices of the Chester council, Jr. O. U. A. M., on next Monday evening. The committee has been indefatigable in its efforts to arrange a program which will be novel and entertaining.

Fortune has favored those in charge in that they have succeeded in booking Prof. George Kiernan, one of the best elocutionists now before the public. Mr. Kiernan is making his headquarters at Pittsburg, and has consented to appear for this one night in Chester. He will present a character sketch, entitled "The Old Homestead." The play is a beautiful one and is sure to please. The entertainment will be held in the Jr. O. U. A. M. hall in the Mercer building, recently completed, and arrangements have been made to entertain a very large crowd.

Soon Will Finish.

Drillers at the well of the Chester Oil & Gas company yesterday succeeded in getting through the hardest strata through which they have been drilling for several days, and it now looks as though they would be through with the present hole in a few days.

All preparations have been made for the location of the No. 2, and the hole will be staked off just as soon as the rig is ready to move. With the increased force of drillers the work is progressing more rapidly than ever before. There will be no let up in the development of the field until it has been thoroughly tested.

Chester Illustrated.

Photographer Robert C. Spencer was in Chester yesterday, where he took a number of pictures for the use of Prof. Harry Moore, publisher of the Southside Citizen. Mr. Moore proposes issuing a souvenir edition of the paper in which will be shown a number of the residences and business houses of prominent men of the locality. John Shrader's residence and the business block of the Chester Hardware company were photographed yesterday and will be converted into cuts. Mr. Moore expects to issue next week.

Repairing the Boilers.

Repairs to the boilers at the tannery are progressing as rapidly as could be expected, and it is hoped that the work will be completed in time to resume operations on next Monday. The workmen are just as well satisfied, since the work must be done that it would fall at this time in the year and are enjoying the loaf by making short hunting excursions into the country and in various other ways.

Card of Thanks.

The general committee of arrangements representing General Lyon post, No. 44, G. A. R., in promoting and carrying to a successful termination the street carnival held in this city during the present week, desires to express its sincere and heartfelt thanks to the general public for its liberal patronage, the young ladies who took part in the diamond ring contest, the members of the W. R. C., the Sons of Veterans and all others who aided the old soldiers in the way of patronage and sympathy for the movement during the week. The committee takes this means of expressing its gratitude and to assure all who in any way contributed to the success of the carnival that their kindness will ever be remembered.

Here also will be witnessed the coronation of the queen of the carnival. Miss Rena Bricelin, who won the ring contest, will be crowned queen of the event with all the ceremonies usually connected with an occasion of that sort. Two young ladies will act as the maids of honor, and will be driven to the scene of the coronation in a beautifully bedecked carriage drawn by two handsome white horses, the property of J. C. McQuilkin. Arriving at their destination the ceremonies will be proceeded with in full view of the entire audience. The exquisite crown is the creation of Chal Peterson and is a very handsome piece of work. Headed by a brass band the old soldiers will escort the carriage to the city of St. Pierre.

The program for the carnival, this afternoon and tonight is by far the most interesting of the week, and the attendance will doubtless be very large. In spite of the "knocking" which has been going on in some quarters, and the fact that many predicted a frost on account of the scarcity of money so soon after the midsummer loaf in the potteries, the Grand Army has made a grand success of the carnival. The proceeds from the affair will amount to considerable, and as was announced in the beginning, will be applied to the relief of helpless and needy soldiers.

"Our duty is plain. He was our great spiritual father, with a father's love for us, his children, his American children. Let us now prove our love for him. That love can now be shown only by our prayers and the holy sacrifice of the mass offered up for the repose of his soul. On next Monday there will be a solemn pontifical requiem at 9 a. m. in the cathedral to which we invite all the priests who can come. On Tuesday we order that in every church of the diocese a requiem mass be offered for the soul of Leo with as great solemnity as possible. We hope that for 50 days each church will be draped in mourning, and during that time after every mass three Our Fathers and three Hail Marys be recited with the responses—Eternal rest grant unto him, O Lord. And may the perpetual light shine upon him. May he rest in peace. Amen.

"During the vacancy of the see of Peter, the prayer 'Supplici, Domine, summo Pontifice,' will be substituted for the prayer pro papa.

"Brethren, we loved Leo in life, we will love him in death and will often pray: Sweet Jesus, have mercy on him. Amen.

"Please read this letter at all the masses next Sunday."

COUNTERFEITER FOUND GUILTY

Cigar Manufacturer Not Only Used Begue Union Label, but Substituted False Bottoms in Boxes.

New York, July 24.—Charles W. Salomon, a dealer in leaf tobacco and manufacturer of cigars, was found guilty in the court of special sessions of counterfeiting the union cigar label and sentenced to pay a fine of $500. Later he was taken before United States Commissioner Shields and was held in $1,000 bail for his appearance on August 4, when he will be arraigned on a complaint made by Revenue Agent John W. Sinsal, who charges him with having substituted false and forged bottoms in boxes of cigars made in Pennsylvania so that dealers and others would believe them made in Key West.

In the neighborhood of half a million cheap Pennsylvania cigars, purporting to be Key West, have been distributed throughout the United States by Salomon, according to the secret service officials. Salomon owns small factories in Key West and in Red Lion, Pa.

A Statement.

The report having been circulated that in quitting the diamond ring contest I gave by money and influence to Miss Rena Bricelin, I desire to inform the Grand Army and the public that I neither collected nor turned over to Miss Bricelin or anyone else a single penny. This statement is made in justice to those concerned as well as to myself. Thanking the committee of arrangements and all others who supported me in the contest, I am,

REALM OF SPORTS

GEO. EMMERLING
GAINED RENOWN

Youthful Twirler Piloted the Local Team to Another Victory.

A VERY INTERESTING GAME

With Wellsville. Resulted in a Score of 5 to 4 in Favor of East Liverpool. Interesting Features Many in a Strenuous Contest.

George Emmerling, the youngster who has been pitching for the Athletics, wrapped himself up in glory yesterday afternoon by twirling the local team to victory against Wellsville at Central park. Eight scattered hits, but two of them in any one inning, was all Captain Maag's swatters could do to his speedy curves. His wildness put him in the hole in several innings, but he steadied down and pitched himself out like an old timer. In the two opening innings the team behind him was a trifle wobbly, and the two runs scored by Wellsville were clear gifts. From the second until the eighth inning Emmerling held them without a run and allowed them but two safeties. Meantime Mr. Patterson was getting his bumps.

Lawrence's illness left Captain Reark in sore straits for a twirler and he called out Emmerling and "Flicker" Allison, both of the Athletics. The latter had injured his arm in a game a few days ago, so Emmerling went in. Naturally the local fans thought the game was lost before Empire left called play ball, but Emmerling showed them that it was time to have another think. The Wellsville bunch thought it would be easy picking to "make a hundred" off the youngster and wanted to bet on their clinch. They were accompanied by a few moneyed gentlemen from the Crockery City and now they have reason to recall the fact that sure things do not always go through.

In the first onslaught, Gibson struck out for a starter. Maag spanked out a safety and Chambers helped him around to third with a drive along the first base line. Chambers started for second on the first ball thrown and Nist threw to catch him. Maag had such a good start home that McConnell did not throw to catch him at the plate. Chambers reached second, but was left, Wallace going out to Murphy and Brown from Hamilton to Berry.

Emmerling was a trifle nervous and could not locate the plate for Maag. Hamilton went out to Duff on a little pop up. McConnell sent one out to Webb, who made a rank muff. Maag thought he had it and was scurrying back to first, giving Webb an easy chance to throw him out at second. Houser dumped one along the third base line and Brown's throw went on to the fence, McConnell scoring.

East Liverpool was blanked in the second, but Wellsville went one to the good. Riley flew out to Maag and Berry hit a safe one. Nist hit a hot one to George Emmerling, and he threw wild to Wallace. Patterson sent one to Gibson, who fired to Chambers and Nist went out. Chambers threw to Wallace in time to nail Patterson, but Wallace muffed and Berry, who had been moving up on the misplays, crossed the rubber.

While the Wellsville sluggers were trying to solve the mystery of Emmerling's shoots in the succeeding six innings, East Liverpool was pounding Patterson hard and forged to the front. Emmerling singled in the second, but was left. Brown and Webb made safeties in the fourth and suffered a similar fate. Emmerling hit for two bags in the fifth, but was left again—all wasted ammunition.

There were exciting doings in the sixth. Chambers popped up a fly which Hamilton muffed and Wallace followed with a pretty single. Brown hit to Patterson, forcing Chambers at third. Webb went out to Berry. Wallace moving up to third and Brown to second. Two men were down and a hit was badly needed. Reark had two strikes and then sent a scorching past third. Murphy's return was perfect, but Nist stood directly on the line to take it and Brown bumped into him, running at full speed. Nist made a complete circle in the air and although he held the ball he did not touch Brown. Reark moved up to third while the other players were picking up the injured man, but he was left when Duff struck out.

Another was added in the seventh. Gibson led off with a safety and was helped around by Chambers' safety and an out.

In the ninth George Emmerling walked and Gibson helped him along with a single. Chambers scored him with a safety.

Wellsville attempted to repeat the old trick of winning out in the ninth, but a sensational catch by Brown put them out of business. Nist went out on an easy one to Chambers and Patterson sent him one just as easy, but he fumbled and Patterson was safe. Maag, who had walked three times out of four, spanked out a safety and Patterson stopped at third. Maag took second on the next ball pitched, scoring with Patterson on McConnell's safety. The spectators had crowded up along the base lines and the prospect was none too bright for Liverpool, with a man on base and only one needed to tie the score. It was up to Houser and his first try was a high foul. Brown and Duff started, but everybody thought it would drop safe. Brown crowded through the throng, however, and after a hard struggle, nailed it and the victory came to Liverpool.

CHAMPION WRESTLER
WANTS A MATCH

Mike Yokel, the champion middle weight wrestler of the United States, was in the city yesterday. He stated to the sporting editor of the News Review that he would like to effect a match with any local man in his class. Yokel's home is in Beaver Falls. A paper of that city published the following upon his return home a few weeks ago:

"Mike Yokel left Beaver Falls some six or seven years ago and since that time has seen much of the world and achieved quite a reputation as an athlete, his special forte being wrestling, and he now holds the championship for middle weight wrestlers in the amateur class and has a couple of elegant gold medals, one of which is worth fully $1,000.

"After leaving Beaver Falls he drifted out to New York and served for some time as a sailor. He then drifted into athletics and chancing to get into a good class of fellows and taking good care of himself he soon rose to the front ranks.

"For some time he was one of the instructors in physical culture at Harvard college and will probably go back there again as soon as the vacation is over.

"Yokel, from a green town boy with little or no training as an athlete, but possessed with an inordinate desire to learn and a good physical frame has developed in a broad shouldered, deep chested, clean-cut athlete."

MILLER AND EHMAN
TWIRL TOMORROW

Tall Slab Artist Has Split Even on Games Pitched Against the Locals This Season.

Southpaw Miller and the elongated Ehman will be the opposing twirlers in the concluding game of the series with Wellsville at Central park tomorrow afternoon. So far this season Ehman has pitched four games against the locals and has done no better than split even, two victories and two defeats. Miller outpitched him in the first game of the series last Wednesday and is confident he can turn the trick again. Ehman has been a puzzler to the local batsmen and in none of the four games has he been hit hard. His first game here this season was with the Marines, a 9 to 4 victory for the locals. Ehman was hit safely nine times. He won the second game, 4 to 5, with Barker in the box for East

Liverpool, holding us to five hits. The opening game of the Wellsville series was a loser for him, 3 to 2, the locals getting five hits in this game. He won the last game of the series, 4 to 3, allowing eight hits.

East Liverpool has now won five out of six games, and although this clinches both series the fans are anxious to see them win the remaining games, making it seven out of eight. The lineups for tomorrow will remain practically the same except for the change of twirlers.

ATHLETICS WILL PLAY

At Steubenville Tomorrow and They Anticipate Another Scalp—Ashbaugh to Pitch.

The Athletics, of the Crockery City league, will play at Steubenville tomorrow and expect to give their opponents a drubbing similar to that suffered by East Palestine last week. Ashbaugh will be in the box for the locals and notwithstanding his poor exhibition Wednesday he will no doubt deliver the goods.

The lineup of the Athletics will be as follows: Emmerling, c; Ashbaugh, p; McAvoy, s; Tyson, 1b; Stillwell, 2b; Davis, 9b; Trainer, lf; Carey, m; Bennett, rf; Allison and George Emmerling will be on the bench.

The Athletics will play at Leetsdale in two weeks. They are going to try the tricks of Pitcher Good.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

"Cy" Seymour, of the Reds, was clawed by a lion at the Cincinnati zoo.

Phil Geier, who is with St. Paul, is a deal better than many a player in the fastest company today.

Trainer Mike Murphy, of the Yale foot ball team, is at work devising foot ball armor which can be used under the new rules.

"Rube" Waddell has twice scored 13 strike outs, once at Chicago and once at St. Louis. Matthewson made this record once.

An attempt is being made to bring together the Pacific coast league and the National League of Professional Base Ball clubs.

The Boston Nationals are carrying 12 players on their trip. They have five pitchers, one catcher, three infielders and three outfielders.

Wagner, of the Pirates, is at the top of the National league batters with an average of .368. Bresnahan, of New York, is second with .361.

Altoona Defeats Pittsburg.
Altoona, Pa. July 24.—After having been spanked three times by Chicago and beaten by Housatonic, Pittsburg continued its losing streak by dropping a game to Altoona at Columbus ball park in the presence of 6,038 people, the season's largest attendance. Carpenter's men won by timely hitting and sharp fielding, coupled with the inability of Clarke's crew to straighten out Bennett's benders.

For Bold Attempts at Burglary.

Burglars, sneak thieves and pick-pockets were at work with a vengeance in the city yesterday. Luckily, however, they were successful in but one attempt at realizing profit. The cases numbering in the neighborhood of a dozen were all reported to central station, but so far only one of the daring men has been captured.

Charles ("Chongey") Carraher, one of the most notorious crooks of this vicinity, who has spent many days behind the bars for thefts, burglaries, etc., will be taken to the county jail at Lisbon tomorrow morning by Chief Wyman, there to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of house-breaking. The charge was preferred against him by Mrs. C. T. Hard, of Kossuth street. Carraher was seen to be tampering around a window at the rear of the Hard home early in the afternoon by a neighbor woman. The latter watched his maneuvers until he entered the basement and then she ran to the front of the house and warned Mrs. Hard, who was standing on the porch.

Mrs. Hard, showing extraordinary nerve, bravely walked into the house and upon entering the dining room she saw the man finger around the sill-

verware on the sideboard. The man looked up very much surprised and when Mrs. Hard asked him what he was doing he failed to reply, instead he ran down the cellar way and made his escape through a window by which he entered. Mrs. Hard then rushed to the telephone and asked central to notify the police to hurry to the home. Chief Morley and Pat Woods answered the call, but upon their arrival the would-be burglar had escaped. Mrs. Hard, however, gave them a clear description of him and they soon had Carraher under arrest. They found him on Sixth street and escorted him to the city jail. Later in the evening Mrs. Hard and the lady who first saw him were summoned to the city hall and upon their positive identification of him he was held. Carraher was arraigned this morning and pleading not guilty he was bound over to court. The mayor could not come to a final conclusion in his case, owing to the character of the crime. The penalty is $300 and six months.

Other residences in the vicinity of the Hard home were also approached by Carraher, but so far as is known he failed to make an entrance. The

MIND A BLANK OWING TO BLOWS

Young Man Beaten by Highwaymen Near Salem Until Nearly Dead.

Salem, July 24.—Beaten into insensibility by highwaymen and robbed of a considerable sum of money and valuable papers is the experience which befel Bert Durr, a prosperous young farmer residing on the Ellsworth road, north of this city five miles, at an early hour Monday morning. The case has just come to light. The bold attack occurred near the station at Ellsworth, and as to its details the young man can remember but little. He was so severely beaten about the head and face that he is now in bed and under a physician's care.

Mr. Durr on Sunday evening drove up to Milton township, Mahoning county, to visit friends. He started home late and remembers having driven to a spot this side of the Ellsworth station, and from that time on his mind is a blank.

About 2 o'clock Monday morning Mr. Durr's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Durr, were aroused by hearing some person calling. They investigated and upon opening the door were horrified to see their son standing near, apparently out of his senses and with blood on his head and face. The young man could say little other than to tell his folks to search for his horse. Then he lapsed into a state of unconsciousness and talked no more.

Further investigation showed that Mr. Durr must have been completely out of his mind when he arrived home, as he had tied his horse to a fence nearby and in the yard. The animal showed no signs of misuse. It was also ascertained that Mr. Durr's pocket-book was missing and with it $25 in money and valuable checks and notes, payment on which has been wardel against.

After daylight Monday a friend tracked Mr. Durr's horse back to Ellsworth, which he could easily do owing to the fact that the animal was shod in a peculiar manner. Near Ellsworth station, six miles from the Durr home, tracks in the dusty road showed that the horse had been stopped and other tracks along in great profusion revealed the fact that there had been a struggle of some kind. Aside from the foot prints, which constituted

Tom Johnson May Have a Hard Time to Beat Him For Nomination.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, July 24.—John L. Zimmerman, of Springfield, is developing surprising strength over the state in his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor, and it begins to look as if Mayor Tom Johnson will have a hard time of it beating him out for this honor. Were it left to the rank and file and many of the subordinate leaders Zimmerman would win with hands down. If Johnson decides he wants the nomination there will be a stiff fight.

Congressman Doc Norton, of Tiffin, can see nothing but disaster ahead for the Democracy in Ohio with Johnson as its leader. Says he: "Johnson is as erratic as a cat and as revengeful as Satan." Norton blames his defeat for re-election last fall on Johnson.

General Charles Dick, of Akron, came to town yesterday, but will only stay a day or two. He will be here regularly from the 3d of August. He is conferring with John L. Malloy, secretary of the state committee, and others relative to work of the campaign bureau established here by the committee. No one seems to know who will be the Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor. Anthony Howells, of Massillon, was the nominee two years ago.

An opinion has been rendered to Secretary of State Laylin by Attorney General Sheets that corporations for profit which have not opened their books for subscriptions, are liable for the minimum Willis law tax of $10.

These prisoners have been discharged from the penitentiary upon expiration of sentences: Thomas Rollins, two years for cutting to kill, Columbiana county; Jacob Hennis, 18 months for biting to disfigure, Jefferson county, and Charles White, one year for forgery, Stark county. White's real name is Frank Hamilton.

James Fetzner, of Columbiana, was in the city yesterday. He is vice president and traveling representative of a firm with headquarters at Fremont which manufactures carriage forgings and bicycle attachments.

LOTS OF BABIES IN COMPETITION

Prizes Awarded to the Prettiest Boy and Girl and to the Fattest.

The last day of the carnival, being held in this city under the auspices of the Grand Army, promises to be the best attended and most interesting since the show began. The carnival has been well patronized throughout the week and the members of the post feel grateful to the citizens generally for their appreciation of a really meritorious attraction.

The baby show was held yesterday and was a grand success. This feature was conducted by the ladies of the Relief Corps, and was one of the most interesting of the week. The event had been well advertised, and mothers from every quarter of the city and far out in the country were on the ground at the appointed time. There were all kinds of babies, fat babies, thin babies, bald headed babies and babies with balding feet. In every case they looked just like their papa, and in the opinion of the fond mother were the very finest that ever was.

The show was conducted at the Grand Army hall and occupied the time from 2:30 until 5 o'clock.

In all 27 babies were on exhibition, all of which had been entered as the very best baby in the world. A committee had been very carefully selected, and the names were withheld until the very last in order that no irregularity could be charged. The list was as follows: John Martin, Jr., June Long, Edith Elliott, Francis McCloskey, Gerald Springer, Harry Merle Butler, Frederick Allison, Elsie Robella Lowers, Goldie Green, Walter Flowers, Emma Gale Staats, Ruth Willets, Violet Davis, Constance Green, William Carle Densmore, Helen Worcester, Robert Robinson, Florence Green, Mildred Prosser, Marie Wallace, Gordon Morris, Charles S. Patterson, Henry Marshall, Dorothy Mountford, Wayne Morrow, Alina Moon, Mara Owen.

Prizes had been offered for the prettiest girl baby, the prettiest boy baby and the fattest baby. It required over an hour for the judges to determine upon the winners and the result was announced at about 5 o'clock. The winners were as follows:

Prettiest girl baby—Ruth N. Willets, 7 months, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Willets.

Fattest baby—William C. Densmore.

The prize winners were each given a beautiful silver cup, and to each baby present was presented a souvenir spoon, which each in turn promptly conveyed to its mouth instead of the regular thumb action.

The colored baby show is being held this afternoon, and the indications from the number of entries received to the present are that there will be a large number of contestants.

Cemetery Hill Reported Rich in Precious Metal. Assay Shows $700 to the Ton.

According to the story of John Jefferies, of Wellsville, gold quartz of almost incalculable value was discovered a few days ago on his place near the base of Cemetery hill. The discovery was made by drillers who were sinking a water well on the place.

If the quartz can be found in any quantity Jefferies will become fabulously wealthy.

Jefferies, who had been watching the progress of the drilling on his place, first noticed the quartz several days ago, when the hole was at a depth of about 38 feet. The cone brought up by the drill had a peculiar color and appearance and his curiosity was at once aroused. He suspected that it contained particles of the precious metal. A quantity of the rock was sent by him to the assayers of the Western Reserve university and in a few days he received from them a statement that the sample showed the presence of gold to the value of $700 in a ton of the quartz.

The result of the assay has been made public by Jefferies and has aroused a great deal of excitement.

Suit was brought for damages held to be due for damage to plaintiff's property, resulting from the grading of a certain street.

A TEAM STOLEN IN WELLSVILLE

Fine Pair of Horses Driven Off by Harry Potts, a Local Character.

One of the boldest robberies in the history of Wellsville was perpetrated yesterday, and though the first part of the scheme worked admirably, the thief is now in custody and will be taken before the grand jury.

Mrs. Philip N. McLean and daughter, Miss Alice, who reside at the Scotch settlement, north of Wellsville, came to town to do some shopping. The ladies drove a match team of valuable bay horses, held by their owner to be worth $400. They hitched the team in front of the business establishment of J. J. Dowling, and were busy for some time with their marketing.

A short time after the team had been tied up, Harry Potts, a well known character of the town, deliberately walked to the hitching post, untied the horses and taking a seat in the buggy drove off. He proceeded west on Broadway to Eighth street and along that thoroughfare to Main. He passed the barn of McLean Bros., cousins of the owners of the team, and although their attention was attracted to the outfit and it was recognized by them, gave the occurrence but a passing notice. Potts was soon out of sight and during the day visited Hammondsville, Irontale and several other towns in the vicinity.

It was some time after the theft was committed before the loss was discovered, and then the ladies reported at once to the McLean Bros. barn. Daniel McLean, one of the brothers, immediately hunted up Chief Houser and the wires were kept hot for several hours. Some confusion was caused by a misunderstanding on the part of the officers at Irontale and Salineville, they thinking that the missing team was gray. Marshal Higgins, of Salineville, got a clue to the missing outfit at Monroeville, and going there was just in time to apprehend the thief and get possession of the stolen property. The team was driven back to Wellsville and Potts was taken to the Salineville jail. Meantime Philip McLean, the owner of the horses, had been communicated with and last evening made information against Potts in the court of Justice A. C. MacKenzie. A warrant was sworn out and placed in the hands of Constable Spires, who left for Salineville on the midnight train. He returned to the city at noon and a hearing was immediately held.

Potts was held in $500 bail for the grand jury, in default of which he was taken to Lisbon jail. Constable Spires starting with him on the hack this afternoon.

SOLEMN SERVICES TO BE HELD IN MEMORY OF POPE LEO XIII IN ALL CATHOLIC CHURCHES

The Order Issued by Bishop Horstmann Received by Father Smyth, of St. Aloysius, Today.

Rt. Rev. Bishop Horstmann, of the Cleveland diocese, of which this city is a part, has issued an order, received in this city today, which will govern the obsequy exercises to be observed in memory of the late Pope Leo XIII. Throughout the official communication are tender words for the dead pope.

The invitation to the priests of the diocese to attend the Pontifical High Mass to be celebrated in the Cleveland Cathedral at 9 o'clock Monday morning will be accepted by Rev. Father T. M. Smyth and Rev. Father T. J. Mahan, if circumstances permit.

St. Aloysius' church will be draped for the period of 30 days and the other services authorized by the bishop will be observed.

Following is the full text of the communication:

"To the Reverend Clergy and Devoted Laity of the Diocese of Cleveland: 'Leo XIII is dead! Such was the sad cable dispatch of last Monday noon; and we are sure that at once, wherever the news came, a fervent prayer went up to the great Bishop of Souls, our Lord Jesus Christ, for mercy on His faithful vicar, Leo. Leo was indeed great in real sense of the word. Grand in intelligence, grand and powerful in will, grand in heart, with a love of God, of the church and of humanity, like to that of the sacred heart of his Divine Master. Over ninety-three years old, we could scarcely hope that he would be able to overcome his serious illness, but the news of his death still came as a shock not only to every Catholic heart, but also to the whole world. His career as pope for over twenty-five years endeared him to all humanity, king and peasant, to learned and ignorant, to rich and poor—to all he proved himself their best benefactor.

"Lumen in coelo! A light in the heavens—such has been his whole life, but especially as the chief watchman in the towers of Israel, preaching, warning, exhorting and teaching the whole human race. We thank God for having given us such a pope and for having spared his life of usefulness for so many years. We thank God for the tributes of praise which have been given him by all, irrespective of race, nationality or religious belief. All declare that he was a great man, a good man, a grand benefactor of the human race. All deplore his death. Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord. Amen! smith the Spirit, 'for they rest from their labors and their works do follow them.' Yes, Leo is at rest; but his many and great works have pleaded for him as he stood before his Judge.

FOOT BADLY CRUSHED BY MOVING CAR

William Carman Meets With a Painful Mishap on the Street Railway.

While attempting to board a street car in Wellsville last night shortly after 9 o'clock, William Carman, brother of T. O. Carman, of this city, met with an accident which will cause him to be laid up for weeks and which may result in permanent lameness.

Carman has been working at Mingo for several months and was en route to this city last evening for a short vacation, when he was hurt. He was standing on Third street, Wellsville, near the Metropole hotel, awaiting the arrival of the street car, when it very suddenly appeared and though he hurried to the middle of the street the motorman, it is said, did not make any pretense at stopping the car for him, but instead, it is alleged, increased the power.

Carman made a leap for the front end of the car and one of his hands only got a hold. The grasp was obtained on the second handle bar and the sudden jerk of the car threw him underneath. The wheels passed over his left foot and badly mashed it. Spectators ran to his assistance and removed him to the home of a friend where physicians were summoned. They found the foot to be cut badly and though the entire foot will not be amputated, at least two of the toes will have to come off.

The injured man will be removed to this city this evening.

Will Address Graduates.

Lisbon, July 24.—(Special.)—Attorney Lewis T. Farr, of Rogers, will make the address to the graduates under the Patterson law, at the commencement to be held at the high school in Lisbon on the afternoon of August 4 at 1 p. m.

PROOF POSITIVE OF POPULARITY

Candidates in the News Review's Great Contest Are Taking a Rest.

NO VOTE CAST YESTERDAY

For the first time since the News Review popularity contest was started not a single vote came in last night. It seems to have struck all the candidates at once to "hold out" and toward the last of the week it is expected the votes will come in with a rush, swamping the clerical force for the time.

The failure of any of the candidates to have their votes counted last evening had the effect of making the contest more exciting than ever, as the result is more than ever in doubt for the delay. That the votes are in the hands of the contestants and their friends is certain, and the fact that no one can tell just what number each have succeeded in collecting is mystifying.

As a matter of fact the interest is unabated, and the standing of the candidates is among the first things looked for by hundreds of subscribers when the paper reaches them. On the last end of the contest it behooves the candidates to reach those who hitherto have not been saving coupons. While the great majority of the subscribers are participating in the contest, there are quite a number who have not as yet cast a single ballot. The latter class comprise a very few, however, as the candidates have searched every nook and corner for votes.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

CLAY MEN PICNIC.

The clay diggers employed at the East End mines held a picnic Wednesday afternoon and report a fine time. Robert Parker, of Wellsville, was called upon to make the music and he did so to the satisfaction of all. Speeches were made by James Parker and George Dobbs, and on the whole the day was most enjoyably spent. Those at the picnic were James Parker, Alf McKinnon, George Dobbs, Sheridan Berry and Charles Metz.

STILL FIGHTING.

The title of the new pottery being built at Mannington reflects the sentiment of that town in a "new county" fight which has been waged fiercely for many years. Mannington has long wanted to be the county seat of a new county to be called Augusta, a movement that has been successfully opposed by Fairmont, the seat of Marion county, of which Mannington is a part. Thousands of dollars were spent by both sides at the state legislature last fall and the Augusta county fight was the most spectacular thing of the session. Mannington people intend to keep the fight up, and so, in subscribing $45,000 stock and a large fee site, they were largely induced to be liberal because it was stipulated that the pottery would be called the "Augusta." Many secret order lodges in the town have adopted the name, while nearly all the girl babies are christened the same.

GAVE UP THE CONTRACT.

During the midsummer loaf now drawing to a close three well known potters have been engaged at an occupation which was entirely new to them. Fred Anderson, Frank March and Willis Ross took a contract to move William Leigh's personal effects from his bachelor's quarters to his new establishment fitted up since his marriage a few weeks ago. Mr. Leigh, having lived for many years in single blessedness, and being a studious individual had accumulated a large number of books and magazines. The contractors, because of their lack of experience in the moving line, now assert they were mistaken. They say they carried magazines for three whole days and then gave up the job in despair. They told the pottery reporter they would now confine their time to the pottery business without any side issues.

PARKERSBURG'S NEW PLANT.

Work is progressing rapidly on the new buildings of the Southside Pottery company in the East End, Parkersburg. The main building, which is now almost ready for the roof, will be 70x80 feet and in the center will be three stories high. It is frame. As soon as the main building is completed work will be begun on the other buildings. One of them will be 35x70 feet and the other 20x80 feet. They will be completed about the first of September.

TO MAKE A NEW LINE.

George B. Harvey, of the Thomas China company, Lisbon, says: "It is true the plant will be shut down, but not because of finances. It will soon present to the trade a new line of ware, making porcelain instead of semi-porcelain, and the present shut down will be for the purpose of arranging for that improvement. The Thomas China company is sound as a gold dollar."

TIRED OF FARMING.

Sherman Vincent, the well known kiln drawer, employed at Cartwright's, has tired of farming and disposed of his place near Calcutta to again take up his residence in this city. His experience as a tiller of the soil provided a great deal of amusement for his shop mates.

IN ZANESVILLE.

John Bishop, the well known modeler of this city, has gone to Zanesville, where he will remain for several weeks. Mr. Bishop has secured the contract for the creation of a new shape at the pottery there and is now hard at work upon the model.

HE IS A FRIEND

OF JOHN WYMAN

So Says Thomas Cannon—His Reason for Supporting Police Ordinance.

Thomas Cannon, member of council from the Fourth ward, who was one of the six who voted against the retention of Chief of Police Wyman, objects to the statement that he supported the move to reduce the police force in sympathy with the saloon element and its interests.

It will be remembered that Mr. Cannon was absent from the meeting at which the police ordinance was amended, and it was the subject of some speculation as to what stand he would take in the matter. Some of his constituents expressed their displeasure and others openly accused him of playing with the saloon keepers.

"I cannot imagine what reason any one who knows me could have in attempting to connect me with the saloon element," said Mr. Cannon to a News Review reporter this morning. "I am as good a friend of John Wyman as he possesses in East Liverpool, and if it were possible I would as soon see him in the position of chief of police as any man in East Liverpool. As a neighbor, a friend and an officer I have the very highest regard for John Wyman. Every one who was posted on the situation in the Fourth ward at the nomination and election knows that I was not the saloon men's candidate, and in order to satisfy myself on the matter, I took the trouble to inquire of one of them as to who their man was. They told me without hesitation, and I, of course, acted accordingly. My interpretation of the code shows me that under no circumstances can Mr. Wyman be construed as being in the classified list, and that nothing else has prompted my actions in this matter."

FIVE MURDERERS

IN DEATH CHAMBER

Numerous Criminals Awaiting Execution in the Penitentiary at Columbus.

Columbus, July 24.—(Special)—The death chamber at the penitentiary will soon be the temporary abiding place of five condemned murderers. Three are new occupants of it—the two Wade brothers from Toledo, and Philip Nagle from Upper Sandusky, and in a few days the wife strangler, Alfred Knapp, who was found guilty of first degree murder, without recommendation of mercy, at Hamilton week before last, and Lewis Harmon, in whose case a similar verdict was rendered at Columbus Saturday night, will be placed in the annex.

Knapp confessed to the committing of several atrocious murders, women and children being his victims. He killed three wives. Harmon shot down in cold blood an aged farmer named George Geyer, whose home he entered

at Alton, near this city, about six weeks ago in company with a pal named Miles Wallingford, for the purpose of robbery. Both had served terms in the penitentiary, Wallingford as a horse thief. Texas was his stamping ground, where he was the leader of a band of desperadoes. He was sent here by the federal government. He fled south after the Geyer murder was committed, but was soon captured. He suicided in jail.

Harmon was 23 years old and was reared near Akron. He took the verdict coolly, and expressed the wish that his taking to the annex be not long deferred, because he understands condemned men are given the most palatable and choicest food. He is said to be a gourmand.

FOUND HANGING IN A HAYLOFT

Well Dressed Unknown Committed Suicide in a Mahoning County Barn.

Youngstown, July 24.—The body of a well dressed man, presumably a suicide, was found hanging in a barn loft at North Jackson. The barn is on the property of Mrs. W. J. Crawford. No person about the premises has any knowledge of the man. No trace of his actions previous to his death has developed since the finding. All efforts to identify the remains have proven unsuccessful.

The remains were those of a gentle appearing person. As soon as the discovery was made the affair was reported to Dr. Zimmerman, who responded and found the unfortunate dead.

Before a preliminary examination of the remains were made the information was telephoned to this city and Coroner Blott was notified.

Dr. Blott made further inquiry by telephone and finds that the remains of the dead man have evidently been hanging in the barn for possibly more than a week and the remains are in a bad state of decomposition.

A Surgical Operation

is always dangerous—do not submit to the surgeon's knife until you have tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It will cure when everything else fails—it has done this in thousands of cases. Here is one of them: "I suffered from bleeding and protruding piles for 20 years. Was treated by different specialists and used many remedies, but obtained no relief until I used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Two boxes of this salve cured me 18 months ago and I have not had a touch of the piles since."—H. A. Tisdale, Summerton, S. C. For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles no remedy equals DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Sold by Alvin H. Bulger.

LOW AWNINGS MUST GO HIGHER

Of the Law Upon the Subject Determined Upon at the Meeting Last Night—Other Business of Minor Importance Receives Attention.

The ordinance regulating awnings is to be rigidly enforced. Mr. Taylor, of the board of public safety, protested at the regular meeting last evening against the violations of the ordinance and his motion to the effect that Chief Wyman enforce the ordinance to the letter was passed. The ordinance is very stringent, providing a heavy fine for any violation and reads as follows:

"No person, persons or corporations shall place or allow to remain any awning of wood or any other substance in front of his, their or its property, unless the same shall be suspended from the building alone and have no supports resting on sidewalks or streets, or cause any signs of wood or any other substance to be suspended across or over any sidewalk so as to obstruct the view along the sidewalk, or shall build or erect any platform, porch, piazza, stairway or other fixtures intended to be permanent upon or over any sidewalk or erect any awning over any sidewalk, unless the lowest point of the awning, sign, platform, porch or piazza be at least eight feet above the sidewalk.

Other business transacted by the board was of minor importance. President Grafton stated that he and Chief Morley had located the site for a fire plug in the East End and read an opinion of the city solicitor as to the authority of the safety board in doing such work. The decision was to the effect that the safety board has jurisdiction over the placing of a plug and that it can expend any sum not exceeding $500 in such work; providing, however, that the amount will not cause an over draft in the safety fund.

A communication submitted by J. J. McFadden was read by Clerk Huntsman. It stated that a fire plug in front of his residence on Walnut street obstructs the natural flow of water and causes water to course down onto his property. He said he would hold the city liable for any damage incurred by the obstruction. The board thought the matter was up to the board of public service and a committee was appointed to confer with the latter board.

A number of bills were presented for the board's consideration and of the total number but two were held up. The bill of H. E. Moon, which was presented several weeks ago and turned down on the ground that the city cannot contract a debt with a city official, was again laid over, pending a decision of the solicitor. The bill of the spring water company was also turned down, the board thinking it policy to get some information as to who ordered the debt. The board stated emphatically that it would not pay any bills which it did not contract.

The following applications were received for positions under the board: John McDonald, fireman; Richard Winn, night watchman at city hall; Sam A. Shipley, policeman; James H. Hargraves, night watchman; T. O. Terrance, fireman. The latter has had experience in the work and would no doubt make a good officer.

The board adjourned to meet next Tuesday evening when it will continue the work of drafting rules.

WELL REPRESENTED IN STATE COLLEGES

Young Men of the East End Will Return to Their Studies
This Fall.

East End will be well represented among the different colleges of the state when the terms commence this fall and some of the young men give promise of attaining high honors. Several college students have been spending the summer vacation with East End relatives and will return to their alma mater to be graduated in the spring, while others will have their first experience.

Grant McDade will return to the Ohio State University to complete his course of study, this being the third year for him. He will be graduated next spring.

Paul Andrews will become a student at the Indiana normal school, Indiana,
Pa., this being his first term.

Ralph McIntosh, who has been attending the Ohio State University, will return to that institution after having spent most of the summer with East End relatives.

Earl Arbutnot, the popular young clerk at Wilson's drug store, will enter the normal school at Ada, O., where he will take up the study of pharmacy.
Owing to his long experience in the store and public school training it will be possible for him to graduate in a year.

In Camp With Militia.

Claude Morrow, of Bradman's grocery, left yesterday for Grove City, Pa., where he will join the company of state militia of which he is a member, that city being his former home.
The company will join others of the regiment and go into camp at Mc-Kinley park, near Somerset. He will be gone two weeks and expects to have
a fine time.

Will Visit England.

land, where he expects to spend the balance of the summer with relatives.
Mr. Miles was born and raised in England, but came to this country many years ago and is making his first trip home.

Caldwell Out of Danger.

Elza Caldwell, the gun victim, who
was thought at the time of the occurrence to be fatally injured, is considered out of danger now by the attending physician. The period for the development of tetanus, the complication
most dreaded, has now passed.

GRAUSTARK

We have a good one for our readers now—GRAUSTARK,
BARR MCCUTCHEON.

Marie Bankhead Owen, reviewing the story in the Bookworm, says: A practical bookman has just said, "no book
since Trilby has taken so great a hold on the popular fancy
as Graustark."

Being a story of love behind a throne, it teems with scenes of adventure and impassioned romance.

The author, George Barr McCutcheon, himself an American, has given the reader a noble example of an ideal
American as hero.

The plot is thrilling and well sustained, the story being told in vivid, terse English.

The motive of the story is the love of a man and a woman, and what that love emboldens them to venture, to dare, to renounce, to endure!

It is beyond the province of the reviewer to reduce the plot of a masterpiece of fiction to a compressed summary
of the story. A zealous story reader delights in the discovery of what happened next as well as to revel in the style and the literary atmosphere.

I would as soon be given a glass of skimmed milk or a squeezed lemon as a book of fiction accompanied with a synopsis of its contents. Graustark I leave therefore to
the pleasure of the prospective reader.

Kansas City, July 24.—Because of
an increase of about 7 cents on a ton
in the wages paid coal miners of the southwest the operators have, it is stated, decided to increase the cost of
fuel to consumers from 50c to $1 a ton.
The increase will apply to all kinds of
coal used by householders and small manufacturing plants and it is probable that before winter sets in there will be a further increase in the prices.
A big operator says that a $6 rate for coal which sold last year for $4 is not improbable.

VISIONARY ESTATE

Reputed Millions of the Whitaker Fortune Again Reported Non-Existent.

The following editorial from the Toledo Blade will be of interest in Columbiana county, many of the Whitaker or Whitacre "heirs" residing here:

"The Philadelphia North American
has done good service for a whole lot
of Whitakers who have been led to believe that they had an interest in
an alleged estate of $200,000,000. According to the claims the Bank of England held this amount in its vaults
subject to payment as soon as the identity of the heirs could be established.

"The Philadelphia paper placed itself in communication with the Bank
of England and was informed that no
such estate existed, so far as the bank
officials knew, and that no such sum
of money was awaiting the pleasure
of the Whitaker heirs.

"This is an illustration of a hundred
similar cases. Shyster lawyers work
on the characteristic cupidity of the human race and wring many a dollar
from the poor in prosecution of claims
that have no more foundation in fact than the Whitaker case. And it is the duty of newspapers in every community to expose these frauds."

Democrats Led by Johnson Map

HARD FIGHT TO BE MADE

By the Cleveland Mayor to Land the Gubernatorial Nomination — Anything to Down Zimmerman Appears
to Be His Rallying Cry.

Columbus, July 24.—"Red Devils,"
special trains, gaily decorated horses
and buggies may be expected to be seen touring the state in the fall for
the purpose of making votes for the Democratic state ticket. Just how many votes will be made, and whether
best thing for the party, no one here
cares to venture an opinion. That the coming campaign will be spectacular
in every respect goes without saying.
It appears that no person is being taken into the confidences of the Hon.
Tom L. Johnson, of Cleveland. In this
and more ideas in his head about
which he has said nothing. That Tom
L. Johnson is going to make a hard fight for the nomination for governor
of the great state of Ohio at the Democratic state convention in this city
August 25 there is not the least doubt.
He has not said that he would, neither has he been quoted as saying that he would not.

It seems to be the cry of the Johnson-Bryan-Lentz Democrats in the central part of the state, that anything
will do to defeat Zimmerman, of Springfield. No one has just found out
why Zimmerman must be defeated at
the general election, but there is some reason that will soon come out. The recent visit of Johnson to the Bryan
summer retreat appears to have started the fact that Johnson would be a candidate. After an all day conference there, Bryan agreed to come to this state in the fall, and if Johnson
at that time did not propose to be a candidate for the nomination of what use would there be in Bryan coming
here?

As soon as the statement was made known that Bryan was to come to Ohio, that moment the fact that Johnson proposed to be a candidate for the nomination was as good as announced by the Cleveland mayor himself. It appears that Zimmerman is
a little too conservative to suit the Johnson followers, and can and is considered by some in that same class as
is Cleveland. In other words, Zimmerman is thought to be a Cleveland Democrat. Bryan, when he comes to the Buckeye state, will warn all the Democratic voters who chance to hear him, and possibly a few Republicans who will listen to him throughout of curiosity, of the dangers of Cleveland-
ism. Democrats must, in the estimation of Johnson and Bryan, adhere strictly to the famous old Kansas City
platform. To them the star of victory is perched on those planks. It is well
that they think so, for in Ohio there
are many Democrats who are only awaiting the chance to get away from something that in their estimation is sure defeat at not only a national election, but a state election as well.

Johnson just now is keeping his
own counsel. McLean is doing a little talking, it is rumored, for the announcement is made that the Cincinnati publisher and resident of Washington is coming home from an European trip to enter the battle of ballots in Ohio, and that he will be on the conservative side—meaning the side of Zimmerman. If this be true, and there is every reason to believe that it is
so, a fight that will be worth going
miles to see will be waged by the
Johnson and Zimmerman factions on
the convention floor.

When McLean and his forces are arrayed on one side and the Bryan-Johnson-Lentz forces on the other appear on the convention floor what a story there will then be told. If the Zimmerman faction should win the

glory of the day it will be goodbye to
all the old planks in the Kansas City platform and Bryanism for a time at least.

But, if the tables are reversed, and Johnson is nominated, it will be a
grand old day for Billy from Nebraska.
Lentz will also feel good for they do
say that this ex-congressman is seeking a seat in the walls at Washington.
There is not much chance of the Columbus attorney getting this honor,
however.

Go Prepared.

In preparing for your summer outing a little forethought may save you an end of trouble. Mr. John H. Manly, a dry goods merchant, of Bellville, R. I., while picking an outfit for camping a few weeks on Narragansett Bay, put in a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for emergency use. The second day in camp
his little boy was taken with cramp colic.
The first dose of this remedy gave relief and
the second dose effected a cure. Think of the pain and suffering this boy would have had to endure without this remedy at hand
to relieve him. Such cases often result
fatally. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

Lisbon, July 24.—(Special).—George Rambo, of East Liverpool, is plaintiff in a suit filed against Moreton P. Wilton and the Pottery Building & Savings company, asking that the conveyance of a three-acre tract in East Liverpool be set aside and that he may recover a judgment of $75 from Wilton with interest from May 1, 1902.

The plaintiff says that on April 1, last, he made a verbal agreement with Wilton whereby the plaintiff was to dig a well for him on the premises and furnish the material for completing it.

The well was finished May 1 and at that time Wilton was the owner of the premises. Rambo says only $50 of his claim has been paid, leaving $75 due, for which he has valid lien against the property.

He says Wilton has put the property in his wife's name, to defraud his creditors, and asks that this conveyance be set aside and the Pottery Building & Savings company be required to set up an alleged claim against the premises.

COURT ASKED TO AID

The Executrix of the Late James B. Hall in Discharging His Duties.

Lisbon, July 24.—(Special).—Jerusha Hall, of East Liverpool, as executrix of the estate of the late James B. Hall, has filed a petition asking the aid of the court in construing a clause in the will of the deceased. James B. Hall died April 21, 1902, leaving as his only heirs, his widow and an adopted daughter, Elizabeth J., who, before the death of the testator, became Mrs. Josiah T. Herbert.

The executrix asks the court to determine her duties as to the second item of the will, which provides that all the property of the deceased shall go to the widow, she to have the use of it and to collect all rents and interest for the maintenance of herself and her adopted daughter. The court will have to determine what shares each is entitled to, also as to the interests of Mrs. Herbert in the estate during the life of Mrs. Hall. McGarry & McGarry are attorneys for Mrs. Hall.

SOUTH SIDE

A FINE ENTERTAINMENT

A competent committee is making arrangements for an entertainment to be given under the auspices of the Chester council, Jr. O. U. A. M., on next Monday evening. The committee has been indefatigable in its efforts to arrange a program which will be novel and entertaining.

Fortune has favored those in charge in that they have succeeded in booking Prof. George Kiernan, one of the best elocutionists now before the public. Mr. Kiernan is making his headquarters at Pittsburg, and has consented to appear for this one night in Chester. He will present a character sketch, entitled "The Old Homestead." The play is a beautiful one and is sure to please. The entertainment will be held in the Jr. O. U. A. M. hall in the Mercer building, recently completed, and arrangements have been made to entertain a very large crowd.

Soon Will Finish.

Drillers at the well of the Chester Oil & Gas company yesterday succeeded in getting through the hardest strata through which they have been drilling for several days, and it now looks as though they would be through with the present hole in a few days.

All preparations have been made for one location of well No. 2, and the hole will be staked off just as soon as the rig is ready to move. With the increased force of drillers the work is progressing more rapidly than ever before. There will be no let up in the development of the field until it has been thoroughly tested.

Chester Illustrated.

Photographer Robert C. Spencer was in Chester yesterday, where he took a number of pictures for the use of Prof. Harry Moore, publisher of the Southside Citizen. Mr. Moore proposes issuing a souvenir edition of the paper in which will be shown a number of the residences and business houses of prominent men of the locality. John Shrader's residence and the business block of the Chester Hardware company were photographed yesterday and will be converted into cuts. Mr. Moore expects to issue next week.

Repairing the Boilers.

Repairs to the boilers at the tin mill are progressing as rapidly as could be expected, and it is hoped that the work will be completed in time to resume operations on next Monday. The workmen are just as well satisfied, since the work must be done that it would fall at this time in the year and are enjoying the loaf by making short hunting excursions into the country and in various other ways.

Card of Thanks.

The general committee of arrangements representing General Lyon post, No. 44, G. A. R., in promoting and carrying to a successful termination the street carnival held in this city during the present week, desires to express its sincere and heartfelt thanks to the general public for its liberal patronage, the young ladies who took part in the diamond ring contest, the members of the W. R. C., the Sons of Veterans and all others who aided the old soldiers in the way of patronage and sympathy for the movement during the week. The committee takes this means of expressing its gratitude and to assure all who in any way contributed to the success of the carnival that their kindness will ever be remembered.

Here also will be witnessed the coronation of the queen of the carnival. Miss Rena Bricelin, who won the ring contest, will be crowned queen of the event with all the ceremonies usually connected with an occasion of that sort. Two young ladies will act as the maids of honor, and will be driven to the scene of the coronation in a beautifully bedecked carriage drawn by two handsome white horses, the property of J. C. McQuilkin. Arriving at their destination the ceremonies will be proceeded with in full view of the entire audience. The exquisite crown is the creation of Chal Peterson and is a very handsome piece of work. Headed by a brass band the old soldiers will escort the carriage to the city of St. Pierre.

The program for the carnival this afternoon and tonight is by far the most interesting of the week, and the attendance will doubtless be very large. In spite of the "knocking" which has been going on in some quarters, and the fact that many predicted a frost on account of the scarcity of money so soon after the mid-summer loaf in the potteries, the Grand Army has made a grand success of the carnival. The proceeds from the affair will amount to considerable, and as was announced in the beginning, will be applied to the relief of helpless and needy soldiers.

"Our duty is plain. He was our great spiritual father, with a father's love for us, his children, his American children. Let us now prove our love for him. That love can now be shown only by our prayers and the holy sacrifice of the mass offered up for the repose of his soul. On next Monday there will be a solemn pontifical requiem at 9 a. m. in the cathedral to which we invite all the priests who can come. On Tuesday we order that in every church of the diocese a requiem mass be offered for the soul of Leo with as great solemnity as possible. We hope that for 50 days each church will be draped in mourning, and during that time after every mass three Our Fathers and three Hail Marys be recited with the responses—Eternal rest grant unto him, O Lord. And may the perpetual light shine upon him. May he rest in peace. Amen."

"During the vacancy of the see of Peter, the prayer 'Supplici, Domine,' from the Votive mass 'pro Eligendo Summo Pontifice,' will be substituted for the prayer pro papa.

"Brethren, we loved Leo in life, we will love him in death and will of ten pray: Sweet Jesus, have mercy on him. Amen.

"Please read this letter at all the masses next Sunday."

COUNTERFEITER FOUND GUILTY

Cigar Manufacturer Not Only Used Bogus Union Label, but Substituted False Bottoms in Boxes.

New York, July 24.—Charles W. Salomon, a dealer in leaf tobacco and manufacturer of cigars, was found guilty in the court of special sessions of counterfeiting the union cigar label and sentenced to pay a fine of $500. Later he was taken before United States Commissioner Shields and was held in $1,000 bail for his appearance on August 4, when he will be arraigned on a complaint made by Revenue Agent John W. Sinal, who charges him with having substituted false and forged bottoms in boxes of cigars made in Pennsylvania so that dealers and others would believe them made in Key West.

In the neighborhood of half a million cheap Pennsylvania cigars, purporting to be Key West, have been distributed throughout the United States by Salomon, according to the secret service officials. Salomon owns small factories in Key West and in Red Lion, Pa.

A Statement.

The report having been circulated that in quitting the diamond ring contest I gave by money and influence to Miss Rena Bricelin, I desire to inform the Grand Army and the public that I neither collected nor turned over to Miss Bricelin or anyone else a single penny. This statement is made in justice to those concerned as well as to myself. Thanking the committee of arrangements and all others who supported me in the contest, I am,

Very truly,

GEO. EMMERLING
GAINED RENOWN

Youthful Twirler Piloted the Local Team to Another Victory.

A VERY INTERESTING GAME

With Wellsville. Resulted in a Score of 5 to 4 in Favor of East Liverpool. Interesting Features Many in a Strenuous Contest.

George Emmerling, the youngster who has been pitching for the Athletics, wrapped himself up in glory yesterday afternoon by twirling the local team to victory against Wellsville at Central park. Eight scattered hits but two of them in any one inning was all Captain Maag's swatters could do to his speedy curves. His wildness put him in the hole in several innings, but he steadied down and pitched himself out like an old timer. In the two opening innings the team behind him was a trifle wobbly, and the two runs scored by Wellsville were clear gifts. From the second until the eighth inning Emmerling held them without a run and allowed them but two safeties. Meantime Mr. Patterson was getting his bumps.

Lawrence's illness left Captain Reark in sore straits for a twirler and he called out Emmerling and "Flicker" Allison, both of the Athletics. The latter had injured his arm in a game a few days ago, so Emmerling went in. Naturally the local fans thought the game was lost before Empire List called play ball, but Emmerling showed them that it was time to have another think. The Wellsville bunch thought it would be easy picking to "make a hundred" off the youngster and wanted to bet on their cinch. They were accompanied by a few moneyed gentlemen from the Crockery City and now they have reason to recall the fact that sure things do not always go through.

In the first onslaught, Gibson struck out for a starter. Maag spanked out a safety and Chambers helped him around to third with a drive along the first base line. Chambers started for second on the first ball thrown and Nist threw to catch him. Maag had such a good start home that McConnell did not throw to catch him at the plate. Chambers reached second, but was left, Wallace going out to Murphy and Brown from Hamilton to Berry. Emmerling was a trifle nervous and could not locate the plate for Maag Hamilton went out to Duff on a little pop up. McConnell sent one out to Webb, who made a rank muff. Maag thought he had it and was scurrying back to first, giving Webb an easy chance to throw him out at second. Houser dumped one along the third base line and Brown's throw went on to the fence, McConnell scoring.

East Liverpool was blanked in the second, but Wellsville went one to the good. Riley flew out to Maag and Berry hit a safe one. Nist hit a hot one to George Emmerling, and he threw wild to Wallace. Patterson sent one to Gibson, who fired to Chambers and Nist was out. Chambers threw to Wallace in time to nail Patterson, but Wallace muffed and Berry, who had been moving up on the misplays, crossed the rubber.

While the Wellsville sluggers were trying to solve the mystery of Emmerling's shoots in the succeeding six innings, East Liverpool was pounding Patterson hard and forged to the front. Emmerling singled in the second, but was left, Brown and Webb made safeties in the fourth and suffered a similar fate. Emmerling hit for two bags in the fifth, but was left again—all wasted ammunition.

There were exciting doings in the sixth. Chambers popped up a fly which Hamilton muffed and Wallace followed with a pretty single. Brown hit to Patterson, forcing Chambers at third. Webb went out to Berry, Wallace moving up to third and Brown to second. Two men were down and a hit was badly needed. Reark had two strikes and then sent a scorching past third. Murphy's return was perfect, but Nist stood directly on the line to take it and Brown bumped into him, running at full speed. Nist made a complete circle in the air and although he held the ball he did not touch Brown. Reark moved up to third while the other players were picking up the injured man, but he was left when Duff struck out.

Another was added in the seventh. Gibson led off with a safety and was helped around by Chambers' safety and an out.

with a single. Chambers scored him with a safety.

Wellsville attempted to repeat the old trick of winning out in the ninth, but a sensational catch by Brown put them out of business. Nist went out on an easy one to Chambers and Patterson sent him one just as easy, but he fumbled and Patterson was safe. Maag, who had walked three times out of four, spanked out a safety and Patterson stopped at third. Maag took second on the next ball pitched, scoring with Patterson on McConnell's safety. The spectators had crowded up along the base lines and the prospect was none too bright for Liverpool, with a man on base and only one needed to tie the score. It was up to Houser and his first try was a high foul. Brown and Duff started, but everybody thought it would drop safe. Brown crowded through the throng, however, and after a hard struggle nailed it and the victory came to Liverpool.

CHAMPION WRESTLER
WANTS A MATCH

Mike Yokel, the champion middle weight wrestler of the United States, was in the city yesterday. He stated to the sporting editor of the News Review that he would like to effect a match with any local man in his class. Yokel's home is in Beaver Falls. A paper of that city published the following upon his return home a few weeks ago:

"Mike Yokel left Beaver Falls some six or seven years ago and since that time has seen much of the world and achieved quite a reputation as an athlete, his special forte being wrestling, and he now holds the championship for middle weight wrestlers in the amateur class and has a couple of elegant gold medals, one of which is worth fully $4,000.

"After leaving Beaver Falls he drifted to New York and served for some time as a sailor. He then drifted into athletics and changing to get into a good class of fellows and taking good care of himself he soon rose to the front ranks.

"For some time he was one of the instructors in physical culture at Harvard college and will probably go back there again as soon as the vacation is over.

"Yokel, from a green town boy with little or no training as an athlete, but possessed with an inordinate desire to learn and a good physical frame has developed in a broad shouldered, deep chested, clean-cut athlete."

MILLER AND EHMAN
TWIRL TOMORROW

Tall Slab Artist Has Split Even on Games Pitched Against the Locals This Season.

Southpaw Miller and the elongated Ehman will be the opposing twirlers in the concluding game of the series with Wellsville at Central park tomorrow afternoon. So far this season Ehman has pitched four games against the locals and has done no better than split even, two victories and two defeats. Miller outpitched him in the first game of the series last Wednesday and is confident he can turn the trick again. Ehman has been a puzzler to the local batsmen and in none of the four games has he been hit hard. His first game here this season was with the Marines, a 9 to 4 victory for the locals. Ehman was hit safely nine times. He won the second game, 5 to 5, with Barker in the box for East Liverpool, holding as to five hits. The opening game of the Wellsville series was a loser for him, 3 to 2, the locals getting five hits in this game. He won the last game of the series, 4 to 3, allowing eight hits.

East Liverpool has now won five out of six games, and although this clinches both series the fans are anxious to see them win the remaining games, making it seven out of eight. The lineups for tomorrow will remain practically the same except for the change of twirlers.

ATHLETICS WILL PLAY

At Steubenville Tomorrow and They Anticipate Another Scrap—Ashbaugh to Pitch.

The Athletics, of the Crockery City league, will play at Steubenville tomorrow and expect to give their opponents a drubbing similar to that suffered by East Palestine last week. Ashbaugh will be in the box for the locals and notwithstanding his poor exhibition Wednesday he will no doubt deliver the goods.

The lineup of the Athletics will be as follows: Emmerling, c; Ashbaugh, p; McAvoy, s; Tyson, 1b; Stilwell, 2b; Davis, 9b; Trainer, 1f; Carey, m; Bennett, rf. Allison and George Emmerling will be on the bench.

The Athletics will play at Leesdale in two weeks. They are going to try the tricks of Pitcher Good.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

"Cy" Seymour, of the Reds, was clawed by a lion at the Cincinnati zoo.

Phil Geier, who is with St. Paul, is a deal better than many a player in the fastest company today.

Trainer Mike Murphy, of the Yale foot ball team, is at work devising foot ball armor which can be used under the new rules.

"Rube" Waddell has twice scored 13 strike outs, once at Chicago and once at St. Louis. Matthewson made this record once.

An attempt is being made to bring together the Pacific coast league and the National League of Professional Base Ball clubs.

The Boston Nationals are carrying 12 players on their trip. They have five pitchers, one catcher, three infielders and three outfielders.
